TEAMSTERS SUSPENDED

Rocket Missile Gets 'Close' to 4,000 Miles Up

Scientists Are Still Computing Data of Altitude Record Flight

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Air Force said today preliminary study of scientific data collected by its "Farside" rocket indicates it accomplished its mission by reaching a 4,000-mile altitude.

Col. Eugene C. Lavier, who directed the rocket firing Monday at Eniwetok Atoll, said the rocket could have exceeded the 4,000-mile mark, but he still isn't sure.

He told a news conference that scientists still are completing their exhaustive study of data collected from the rocket by radio.

But he said Dr. Morton Alperin, who is in charge of this effort at Los Angeles, was quoted as saying the rocket's radio signal faded away eight minutes after it was fired, and came back 75 minutes later.

'Successful' Mission

"Dr. Alperin's statement of 75 minutes indicates it would have exceeded 4,000 miles," Lavier said.

"...One could conclude it had completed its mission successfully. Its mission was 4,000 miles."

Asked to guess how far it could have topped that altitude, Lavier said "a few hundred miles perhaps."

He said he expects precise figures on the rocket's performance "momentarily."

The Air Force Thursday successfully fired its 1,500-mile Thor intermediate range ballistic missile at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., test range. The test came two days after the Army's IRBM Jupiter also went through a successful shoot. Defense officials are testing the two in a stepped-up program to see which one will be put into operational use.

The flurry of announcements keeping the U.S. on the counter-offensive propagandawise to Russia's Sputnik, also included disclosure of a successful BoMarc anti-aircraft missile firing at Cape Canaveral. It knocked down a radio-controlled drone plane more than 100 miles away.

Sputnik Still Orbiting

Meanwhile, however, the Soviet moon was still riding high as it completes its third week today girdling the glove, showing no signs of coming down.

As it orbited there were these developments:

—Scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., said the world would have an hour's notice—when and if Sputnik starts to die. It will turn red-orange as it plunges earthward.

—Japanese observers reported a third object in addition to Sputnik and its carrier rocket moving through space. Smithsonian scientists said it may be the rocket's nose cone.

Cops, Robbers Victim Out of Hospital; in Jail

One of two men captured after an unsuccessful attempt to burglarize the Thorofare Supermarket at 12th St. and McKean Ave. in Charleroi early yesterday morning was released from Charleroi-Monessen Hospital today and immediately hustled off to Washington County jail.

Alvin Bostic, 40, Pittsburgh, who was injured in a car wreck during a chase by police, was taken to jail by Charleroi police.

His unidentified companion is still at large.

Bostic and his companion were spotted by Charleroi police near the supermarket and took off in a speeding car before police could apprehend them. The car chase went through North Charleroi and ended when the would-be burglars car missed a curve on Monongahela cemetery hill, went over an embankment and burst into flames.

Both men fled the scene before police arrived. Bostic was captured later on a Donora street.

Bicycling Youths Take Time Off In Brownsville

Two youths spent a night in the Brownsville jail this week, but the cell door was left unlocked.

The young men were there at their own request. They merely wanted a night's lodging without charge.

Brownsville police identified the pair as Thaine Manske, 21, El Campo, Texas, and John Bressie, 20, Sebastopol, Calif. Both are art students who decided to tour the country on bicycles.

Already the youths have pedalled 4,744 miles in a winding trip to New York City. They started out on July 15 from California, with just $60 each.

That money ran out by the time they reached Idaho, but the men have managed to pick up jobs along the way to finance their trip. They have photographic equipment and they plan to make a picture story of their experiences.

300 Students To Take Part In Art Contest

Over 300 students from Monessen public and parochial schools will participate in Monessen's Third Annual Window Art Contest, it was announced today by Claude Sherwin and Mary Breza, co-chairmen.

The students will be excused from school Tuesday and assigned a window in the downtown business district to display their artistic talents.

The Window Art Contest will then serve as a background for Monessen's gigantic Halloween parade scheduled for Thursday at 7 p. m.

Prizes totaling $150 will be awarded to students submitting the best entries. Judging will be by Ruth Hornbake and a panel of judges on Wednesday afternoon.

St. Cajetan Campaign For School

Plans for a "streamlined" fund-raising campaign to help finance the proposed new St. Cajetan R. C. parochial school were announced today by Rev. Nunzio Pirulli, pastor.

Father Pirulli said the initial phase of the campaign will be confined to a five-hour period on Sunday, Nov. 3. He said every home in the parish will be visited from 1 to 6 p. m. on that date to explain the campaign and to accept gifts.

Father Pirulli said that Rev. Leonard Sanesi, assistant pastor has been named general chairman of the campaign. Mayor Hugo Parente and Dr. Fred. T. Campana will serve as honorary chairmen, while Joseph Bafile will act as chairman.

The campaign team has been further organized into 16 co-chairmen, 48 captains and 200 workers.

All members of the parish will be asked to remain home on Nov. 3 during the campaign hours.

Buy Properties

It is hoped to eventually raise $95,000 toward construction of the elementary school, which will be located adjacent to the church on Knox Ave.

The parish has already purchased several adjoining properties to make room for the school.

Father Pirulli said the building will be of the latest design and will include the finest equipment. He said parish societies have promised to spearhead the drive and predicted an early start on actual construction.

The Sisters of St. Joseph from Baden, now in charge of the parish catechetical program, will staff the school when it is built.

Father Sanesi said these co-chairmen have been selected to assist in the drive:

John Catanzaro, Andrew Carollo, A. F. Caterino, Nick Aloisi, Adolph D'Amore, Pat Dodaro, Silvio Dodaro, Louis L. Manderino, Orlo Nudo, Edward Palanzo, Anthony Romasco, Emil Spadafore, Anthony Scuteri, Sisto Rosetti, Nello Tineri and David Victoria.

Any friends of St. Cajetan, who may wish to make gifts, may do so by calling at the church rectory or contacting any member of the committee, Father Sanesi said.

Last Chance for Civic Music Fans

Tomorrow at 4 p. m. will be the last chance to secure memberships in the Monessen-Belle Vernon Civic Music Association.

All final reports from workers will be made by then. Headquarters in Rosenson's Furniture Store will be open until 9 tonight to accept last-minute applications.

Only members will be permitted to attend the series. Tickets are not sold for individual concerts. Prices are $6 for adults and $3 for students.

Webster Firemen Deny Stag Dinner Political

Webster Firemen, embarrassed by a news story which appeared in yesterday's issue of The Daily Independent, said today that their annual stag dinner has "absolutely no connection with politics."

Nello Pasquinelli, president of the firemen, called a special meeting last night, then issued this statement:

"The information which appeared in yesterday's issue of The Daily Independent was unauthorized by the body or the president. Everyone is welcome to attend this stag supper on Sunday at 2 p. m."

Pasquinelli called the special meeting after it was reported that a group of firemen planned to protest a political endorsement which appeared on the back of the stag tickets. One official of the company said the political plug was unauthorized.

Pasquinelli said he preferred to forget about the tickets and added:

"The less said about politics, the better."

It was understood, the firemen had originally planned to destroy the tickets when the advertisement, plugging the Democratic candidates in the county, mysteriously showed up on the back. However at a meeting about six weeks ago, the firemen decided "unanimously" to distribute the tickets as printed, rather than make an issue of it.

"This stag is strictly a fund-raising event," said one fireman. "We have an active organization with elaborate fire-fighting equipment. It takes money to maintain our company."

It was also pointed out that the firemen have members from both political parties and that food for Sunday's affair is being contributed by both registered Democrats and Republicans.

Pasquinelli said he was disturbed by the fact that the "ticket story got into the paper just a couple of days before our annual stag even though the tickets have been in circulation for almost six weeks."

1958 COMMUNITY FUND DRIVE LAUNCHED — A kick-off luncheon yesterday noon marked the opening of the 1958 Monessen Community Fund campaign to raise $29,975. Campaign leaders are William J. Huston, president; Michael J. Skirpan Jr., general chairman, and Henry Furio, co-chairman.

1958 Community Fund Drive To Raise $29,975 Under Way

The 1958 Monessen Community Fund campaign to raise $29,975 got under way officially yesterday with a noon kick-off luncheon at Johnson's Restaurant. Over 60 volunteer workers attended.

William J. Huston, president, conducted the meeting and stressed the importance of meeting the goal. Fourteen different agencies will benefit from the money raised during the three-week drive, he stated.

Also addressing the workers were Michael J. Skirpan Jr., general chairman, Henry Furio, co-chairman; Dr. Joseph J. Pallone, superintendent of local public schools; Harvey W. Seymour, general manager of the Monessen Page Division, American Chain & Cable Co., Inc.; Edwin Dawson, works manager of the Monessen plant of Pittsburgh Steel Co., and George Cieply, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Speaks on Goal

Skirpan spoke on the goal and the agencies that will benefit and called for a thorough canvass of "every home, every business establishment in Monessen."

Furio introduced various division chairmen and other volunteer workers.

Representatives of Monessen High School Student Council were present and will take part in the campaign by distributing fund-raising kits, literature and window displays.

Dr. J. Karl Beery, special gifts chairman, reported that his division has received a total of $10,000 in pledges thus far.

Also present yesterday were members of the Fund's board of directors, John Abernethy, Mrs. Margaret Schilling, Mrs. Matt Zoretich and Daniel Myshin.

Blacktop Paving Resumes Today On Donner Ave.

Blacktop paving resumed today on Donner Ave. in downtown Monessen following a one-day lull in work because of the rainy weather.

State Highway Department crews hope to have the project completed sometime tomorrow.

Donner has already been paved from 12th to 4th St. If the weather holds out, workers should reach 2nd St. by the end of the day.

Traffic is being rerouted over Schoonmaker Ave. from Oneida St. to 4th St.

The Donner Ave. paving is one of two street improvement projects currently in progress in downtown Monessen. The Frank Donatelli Co., Pittsburgh, has started on a contract to repave Schoonmaker Ave. from 6th St. to 17th St. At the moment, workers are confining their operations to a five block area at the western end of the avenue.

Car Overturns Near Rehoboth; Two Men Hurt

Two men are in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital today suffering from injuries received about 2 o'clock this morning when the car in which they were riding missed a curve and overturned on Route 981 in the vicinity of Rehoboth Church.

Hospitalized are Rudolph Forty, 35, of 426 Third St., Monessen, cuts of scalp, right leg, back injuries and possible concussion, and Robert Charles McCleary, 21, of 82 iVolet St., Johnstown, cuts of the face and neck.

Forty was listed in "fair" condition while McCleary's condition was described as "good."

State police said neither Forty nor McCleary would assume responsibility for driving the car, a 1957 two-door Lincoln. The car was completely demolished.

Police said they would question the men further this afternoon.

Youth Killed in Freak Accident By Shotgun Blast

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP) — Rodger D. Shannon, 19, Murrysville, Pa., was killed instantly Thursday night by a shotgun blast set off accidentally in an automobile he was driving.

Three other men were riding in the car.

After the freak accident on the Pleasant Valley Road at nearby Export, Shannon's car struck a pole. None of the passengers was injured.

Police said Shannon was aware of the potential danger of the gun in the back seat and told the lone passenger riding in the rear to move the weapon. As the passenger was complying with the suggestion, Shannon stepped down on the accelerator to get out of a muddy spot and the gun discharged, police said.

The blast hit Shannon in the back of the neck. Coroner Stephen D. Yoney, Westmoreland County, ruled the death was accidental.

The passengers, all Murrysville men, were John Popovich, 18, and George McGurk, 18, who were riding in the front seat with Shannon, and John McGurk, 17, who was riding in the back seat.

AFL-CIO Board Calls Two More Unions on Carpet

WASHINGTON (UP) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council, in a get-tough mood, called two more scandal-scarred unions on the carpet today following its suspension of the mighty Teamsters Union.

The council prepared to deal sternly with the corruption-clouded 160,000-member Bakery Workers and the 40,000-member United Textile Workers.

The council voted Thursday night 25 to 4 to suspend the 1,400,000-member trucking union for failing to give the gate to President-elect James R. Hoffa and a raft of other two officials accused of corruption.

Meany States Position

Blunt-spoken AFL-CIO President George Meany, a cigar clenched between his teeth, made it clear there was only one way for the Teamsters to get back into labor's official family: purge Hoffa and the other marked officials and allow an AFL-CIO committee to supervise the union's housecleaning.

If they refuse, the council warned, it will urge that the union, largest in the nation, be expelled outright at the federation's December convention.

The Bakery and Textile Unions hoped to escape the Teamsters fate by ing "reforms" made in line with AFL-CIO demands. Textile workers Secretary-Treasurer Llofd Klenert resigned last week after having been accused by the AFL-CIO of misusing union funds.

Reused To Resign

But Bakery Workers President James G. Cross has refused to resign despite heavy attacks from Senate rackets investigators, the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee and Bakers Vice President Daniel E. Conway.

The council Thursday brushed aside a request by the Teamsters for a year's delay to give the union time to conduct its own clean-up.

Suspension deprives the AFL-CIO of about $800,000 in Teamsters' dues and roughly one-tenth of its 15,000,000 members.

Teamsters chiefs, apparently stunned by the action, did not indicate their next step. Hoffa, red-faced and angry, bolted from the council meeting and refused any comment.

'Independents' To Hold Rally

A group of "independent" voters in Rostraver Twp. today announced plans for a non-partisan political meeting on Friday, Nov. 1, in the basement of Celapino's Restaurant.

"The meeting will be open to candidates from both parties," said a spokesman. "The Republican candidates for both county and local offices have already agreed to attend."

The meeting is free to the public. Each candidate will be given an opportunity to speak on the campaign issues.

There will also be a question-and-answer period.

Living Costs Rise

WASHINGTON (UP)—The cost of living hit a new high in September, climbing for the 13th consecutive month, the government announced today.

$250,000 in Materials Stolen at Hospital Site

PITTSBURGH (UP)—More than $250,000 in building materials has been stolen from the new John J. Kane Hospital under construction in nearby Scott Township, it was charged today.

Harry King, resident engineer, said everything from 11-cubic-feet refrigerators to furnaces had been pilfered. He blamed construction workers for the looting.

"The pilfering here has been the worst I've ever known during a construction project," King said.

Work on the $22,400,000 installation was to have been completed more than one year ago. King said construction has lagged because builders are faced with the necessity of constantly replacing stolen material.

He said hundreds of light switches, glass panes, commodes, wash basins, soap dishes, towel bars, mirrors, door hinges, cans of paint and numerous other items had been pilfered.

"We've had reports that workmen here have been approached by 'fences' who have offered to take over any 'hot building materials stolen from this job," King said.

One of the contractors on the job, he said, will go at least $200,000 in the red on his $1,200,000 contract because of looting and labor trouble.

Dr. G. P. Hamill, director of the Allegheny County Institution District, pointed out the county did not incur any loss. He said the contractor carried the responsibility for delivering the hospital as specified.

The 2,400-bed hospital for the care and treatment of aged and indigent was re-named recently in honor of John J. Kane, long-time head of the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners.

District Farmer Found Dead in Basement of Home

A semi-retired farmer, George A. Peters, 64, of R.D. 2, Belle Vernon, was found dead shortly after noon yesterday in the basement of his home, an apparent suicide victim.

State police said Peters was killed by a blast from a .12 gauge shotgun "believed to have been self-inflicted."

The body was found by his wife and a neighbor, Mrs. Margaret Stoneman at 1:15 p.m., shortly after their return from West Newton.

The women told police they had talked to the victim before they left the Peters home at 9:30 a.m.

It was learned that Peters had been in ill health for several years.

Names of survivors besides his wife and other details were not available at noon today.

The body is at the Culler Funeral Home, West Newton.

Fayette Judge, S. John Morrow, Dies at Age 78

Judge S. John Morrow, a Fayette County jurist for nearly 30 years, died this morning in Uniontown Hospital, following a paralytic stroke suffered last Sunday.

He had served more years as a judge of the Fayette County Court of Common Pleas longer than anyone in history. He lacked one year and 10 months of 30 years service on the bench.

Born in Crawford County, Judge Morrow was 78.

From 1912 to 1916 he served as assistant district attorney and in January, 1916 became district attorney. In the fall of 1923 he was elected judge.

He and his wife have four adopted children.

Scientific Alliance Plans Set

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan were reported ready today to seek a scientific alliance of 40 or more Free World nations to counter Russia's new challenge

Outlines of the big two 'grand concept" were expected to be revealed, at least in part in the final communique slated for issuance at the close of the Eisenhower-Macmillan talks late today

The President and Prime Minister were slated to hold the last of their three-day sessions at the White House at 2 30 p m edt

Their communique will contain an 'extensive report" on measures to increase Anglo-American scientific-military cooperation officials said. It also will concern Russian sabre-rattling in the Mideast and urge new steps toward peace in the explosive Bible lands

The communique was almost certain to sound an optimistic note on U S and Allied scientific and weapons developments

The President and Prime Minister held their fourth meeting Thursday night—an informal supper and conference at the White House. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd were present. The meeting broke up at 9 32 p.m. edt.

The President and Macmillan have already set in motion plans to step up cooperation in nuclear and military fields. Two top-level committees composed of senior officials of both countries were created Thursday to study and make recommendations—one in the nuclear field and the other in the military field with emphasis on "missiles and rocketry."

Informed sources said today the Anglo-American partners are considering spreading the budding new scientific entente in some degree to nations belonging to the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, the Baghdad Pact, the Western Hemisphere Treaty and other defense arrangements

Speeding the first step in this direction, the President scheduled a business and lunch meeting today with Paul Henri-Spaak, secretary general of NATO and a strong proponent of more allied cooperation in all fields Macmillan was to join the President and Spaak later (about 2 p m edt).

The President has informed Macmillan he will seek congressional modifications of the stiff secrecy terms of the 1946 Atomic Energy Act to permit closer sharing with Britain

Public School Teachers Hold Workshop Here

Dr Flov Penn psychologist for the Mt Lebanon public schools yesterday told a panel of Monessen teachers that the 'gifted child may be enriched in the regular classroom"

Dr Penn was one of six consultants who offered comments during the 1957-58 workshop at Monessen Junior-Senior High School

It is the responsibility of individual teachers to provide for the gifted child,' said Dr Penn She added that special classes were not necessary to develop these youngsters

Dr Penn also had some words of praise for the workshop, which she described as "an invaluable form of in-service training"

Other panel discussions were held on public relations, the legal right of teachers, the Washington National Insurance program and the junior and community college level of education

The consultants in addition to Dr Penn, were Merle Covell, director of elementary education at California State Teachers College Dr K Fife Sterrett, director of student teachers in secondary education at CSTC. Dr Clifford Hooker, professor of education at the University of Pittsburgh Connaid Salm, insurance representative, and Miss Tynne Hanninen speech correctionist

The city s public school students were dismissed from classes yesterday afternoon to permit the annual workshop discussions.

Tamburitzans to Make Another Appearance Here

The Duquesne University Tamburitzans will be making another appearance at Monessen High School on Thursday evening Nov 7 under the sponsorship of the local Parent Teacher Association unit

Each year the nationalistic performers bring to the local stage a wide variety of dances, songs and instrumental music from Slovenia, Dalmatia Croatia, Serbia, Macedonia Hungary Austria, Russia, Roumania and Poland

The colorful costumes add much to the presentation which will be directed by Walter W Kolar, managing director Steve Kovacev treasurer and stage manager and Richard Crum choreographer and technical adviser.

This is the 21st season for the Tamburitzans, comprised of typical but unusually talented college students

The ways and means committee of the PTA headed by Mrs Everett Verraccini and Mrs John Sucha will have charge of arrangements

Pair of Bandits Go All-out But Lose Out in Bank Robbery

TAMPA Fla (UP) — A pair of swashbuckling bandits used two airplanes two automobiles and a hostage to carry out a wild bank robbery scheme Thursday before being captured four hours later

Police identified the bandits as Donald J (Bugs) Thompson, 32 a stunt pilot and former Air Force flyer and Irvine U Suits, 26, an airplane broker

Every law enforcement agency in Florida was alerted after the pair captured Constable Harry Godwin robbed the First State Bank in Fort Meade of $26,645 made a shooting exit and fled in a stolen airplane to hide their loot

The Hillsborough County sheriff's department said Suits insists the money is buried at Boca Grande a swanky resort island off the coast but that possibility has been discarded because "they would not have had time to get there and back even in a plane

Officers took Suits with them on a search for the money

Authorities said Thompson and Suits flew in their own plane from their home airfield in Tampa to a small airport at Winter Haven several miles inland There they stole a plane flew to Fort Meade and landed in a pasture police said

When Godwin tried to arrest them for drunkenness Thompson and Suits overpowered him beat him up and used his car to drive to the bank

They arrived at the bank wearing women's stockings pulled down over their heads

Morris Lunn, a bank employe said one gunman tossed him a bag and ordered him to fill it with money

They then drove Godwin's car back to the pasture and took to the air again while dodging a hail of police bullets

The pair then flew back to Winter Haven picked up their own plane and apparently went somewhere to hide the cash Then they returned to Tampa

Thompson dropped Suits off at the Peter O Knight Airport in Tampa, then flew to Tampa International Airport where he was grabbed by officers awaiting his arrival

Suits was halted and arrested for allegedly driving while drunk in Tampa He later was identified as one of the bandits.

The twelve letters in the Hawaiian alphabet consist of the vowels and the consonants H, K, L, M, N, P, and W.

UN Opens Debate on Middle East Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N Y. (UP —The General Assembly wades into the debate on the crisis between Turkey and Syria again today in the face of Syrian refusal to let Saudi Arabia mediate the dispute

The Arab countries, showing increasing signs of wavering in their support of Syria, prepared to present a resolution asking for an investigation commission to go to the Middle East

An Arab spokesman said the resolution also probably would call upon Syria and Turkey to withdraw forces from their common border and refrain from warlike acts

The assembly also was expected to receive a Western proposal to send Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to investigate the tense border situation

May Accept Proposal

The Syrian delegation here was cool to such a suggestion although there were indications the Damascus government would accept it

The General Assembly was called to meet this afternoon (at 3 p m) for the Middle East debate It was adjourned last Tuesday to give Saudi Arabia a chance to try to mediate the Turko-Syrian crisis Turkey agreed but Syria did not

This morning (at 10 30 a m e d t) the 82-nation Political Committee resumed its disarmament debate the Security Council took up the Indian-Pakistani dispute over the former princely state of Kashmir and the Assembly dealt with a variety of lesser items

The Political Committee had before it a new resolution from Yugoslavia suggesting a special session of the assembly on the arms question next year

Debate May Drag On

Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand General Assembly president hoped to complete the Middle East debate today but other diplomats said it might drag on into next week

Foreign Minister Salan El Bitar of Syria had a 70-minute session with Hammarskjold Thursday Afterwards he said they did not even discuss the possibility of the secretary general going to the Middle East

In addition Syrian Ambassador Farid Zeineddine said "no useful purpose' would be served by such a mission

But the suggestion originally was made this week in Damascus by the Syrian Speaker of Parliament, Akram Hourani Western observers said it might just be another case of lack of coordination between Syrian government leaders in Damascus and the Syrian delegation here

We Heard It— ABOUT the VALLEY

(By The Independent News Staff)

Wise Contractor

There's more than one way to skin a cat. And building contractors have to know most of them.

This week workers for Toussaint and Snyder arrived at the empty building on Sixth St. recently purchased by the Hibbs Agency. They unloaded their tools to begin remodeling operations.

Unhappily, they couldn't open the front door.

Unperturbed, the boss, Bill Snyder, simply removed the big plate glass window in the front of the building. In walked the workers with their equipment.

When the job was done for the day, Bill neatly replaced the window.

The door remained locked through it all.

Confused Kids

That sudden detour Monday morning which blocked off the western end of Schoonmaker Ave. in Monessen caused considerable confusion.

A group of St. Leonard parochial school students from the Lynnwood-Fairhope area will attest to that.

They boarded their bus as usual, but wound up in Charleroi instead of Monessen. After explaining their problem the youngsters were sent back to Belle Vernon.

From there, they transferred to another bus and circled back to Monessen via Brewery Hill.

Before boarding the bus for home, a spokesman for youngsters insisted that the driver explain carefully in what direction he intended to travel.

Really Frontier

The new dial telephone exchange in Donora is named F'Rontier.

"And they sure picked a good name," observes John Boniella, a reader from Perryopolis.

"When you cross the bridge into Donora, the first place you run into is the 101 Tavern. Than as you go up the street, you see the Bucket of Blood, Silver Star, and Last Chance."

Boniella isn't kidding either. Those are really names of Donora business places.

Somebody Goofed!

A Monessen restaurant laid out a swank breakfast table the other day for a wedding party.

But nobody showed up.

Somebody goofed. The wedding wasn't scheduled until a week later.

A Small World

Arriving as patients the same day at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital recently, Joseph Zundel of Belle Vernon and Arthur Wells of Charleroi struck up a conversation from their adjoining beds.

Suddenly it dawned on them that they had been boyhood chums on a Rostraver Twp. farm. They hadn't seen each other in more than 40 years.

Trouble to Come

The Rehoboth Valley Industrial District will be nationally advertised in The Wall Street Journal today and The New York Times tomorrow.

But the advertisement — which is costing the state Department of Commerce a pretty good chunk of cash — may actually lead to some confusion.

To begin with, Rehoboth is misspelled "Rehobeth". Then, too, the mailing address is listed as Rehoboth Valley.

Imagine the trouble the Post Office department will have with that one!

Got Big Thrill

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill and family of Brownstown experienced an unexpected thrill during a recent trip to Virginia.

Upon hearing that Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip planned to stop off at Washington, D. C., the Hills hurried to the nation's capital just in time to get a good look at the royal couple.

"The Queen is just lovely," beamed Mrs. Hill. "And that Prince is just so handsome!"

St. Mary's Church Pastor to Be Honored

A testimonial dinner for the Rev. Andrew D. Parvensky, pastor of St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church, Second St. and McKee Ave., Monessen, will be held by members of the parish Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Slovak Home, 335 Schoonmaker Ave.

Father Parvensky assumed the pastorate here last Aug. 1. and will be officially welcomed by some 400 parishoners and guests at Sunday's affair.

John Kossar, a church trustee and member of the Monessen School Board, is general chairman.

Toastmaster will be the Rev. George Durisin, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Donora. Dr. Michael Duda, president of California State Teachers College and a member of the local parish, will deliver the principal address.

Others expected to speak briefly are the Very Rev. Andrew Dzmura, dean of the Pittsburgh Byzantine south deanery; Mayor Hugo J. Parente, Monessen; Judge David H. Weiss, Westmoreland County Common Pleas Court; Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent of local public schools, and the Rev. Joseph Gajosik, pastor of Holy Name Church, Monessen.

Singing by Choir

Musical selections will be offered by the church choir under the direction of William Evancho. Dancing to the "Mello-Tones" will follow the speaking program.

Father Parvensky came to Monessen as the successor to the Rev. John Gaspar, who now is pastor of St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church, Mansville, N. J.

Former pastor of St. Eugene's Church in Cleveland, Ohio, Father Parvensky, 32, is a native of Pottstown, Pa.

He studied for the priesthood at St. Procopius College and Seminary in Lisle, Ill. He was ordained at St. Mary's Church, Cleveland, Ohio, in 1950.

His first assignment was as an assistant pastor at St. Michael Church, Passaic, N. J., where he served for two years. From 1952 to 1954 he was an asisistant pastor at Holy Trinity Church, Philadelphia.

Later he was transferred to the chancery of the Most Rev. Bishop Nicholas T. Elco, Pittsburgh, and served as prefect of the diocese's college department.

In 1955 he became pastor of St. Eugene's Church.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Parvensky, and two brothers, Emil and John, live in Detroit, Mich., where his father is the cantor at St. Nicholas Church.

Father Parvensky

Will Represent Valley at State NAACP Meeting

Harry McCraw, Monessen and Walter Jefferson, Donora, will represent the Monongahela Valley at the state conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Reading over the week end.

The three-day conference will begin tomorrow and run through Sunday.

Jackie Robinson, former Brooklyn Dodger baseball star, will speak on the NAACP's youth program.

A featured speaker will be Roy Wilkins, executive director of the national organization.

The conference will also hold several panel discussions on various subjects, including housing, schools and discrimination.

Clergy to Explain Bond Issue

Monessen's clergymen have promised to explain the proposed library bond issue to their parishioners.

Thirteen ministers, priests and rabbis met last night at Johnson's Restaurant as special guests of the Citizens Committee for the Library.

Donald C. Duvall, chairman of the committee, requested the clergy's help in emphasizing the importance of the proposed $200,000 bond issue in order to finance a new library building in downtown Monessen.

Each of the clergy accepted a brochure on the library bond and agreed to pass the information along, either in the form of a sermon or through their respective Sunday bulletins.

Monessen voters will be asked to decide on the bond issue at the Nov. 5 election.

Clergy Attending

Clergy attending last night's meeting included Rev. Leroy S. Cass, First Methodist Church; the Rev. Lester Crum, Evangelical United Brethren Church; Rev. David J. Dillon Jr., Trinity Episcopal Church; Rev. Abner P. Richard Jr., First Presbyterian Church; Capt. John Connors, Salvation Army,

Student Council Has Plans for Magazine Sale

The Monessen High School Student Council today announced plans for a magazine sale throughout the city.

The proceeds will be used to help finance the Council's foreign exchange student program. In recent years, the Council has sponsored a foreign student at MHS.

"We are requesting cooperation from all city residents in this magazine sale," said a Council spokesman.

Plans were prepared at a meeting earlier this week.

The Council also agreed to hold the annual variety show on January 16. Valley schools will be asked to contribute acts.

In turn, the council members decided to send two acts to Donora for a similar show. Representing Monessen will be "The Sophomores," a singing group, and vocalist Eddie Barch who will be accompanied by Nick Campo on the guitar.

Treasurer Cecil Ortallona reported that the Council had $202.64. Kathy Swade, chairman of the Awards and Banner Committee, said that honor rolls will be judged next Thursday.

The meeting was in charge of president Michael Mavias.

St. Vincent Gets Grant of $2,000

The ESSO Education Foundation today announced that it has granted St. Vincent College a sum of $2000, to be used to help meet expenses directly associated with undergraduate education.

The Foundation, formed in 1955 by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and several of its domestic affiliates, granted a total of $1,332,760 to 345 educational institutions for the academic year 1957-58.

Sputnik Lecture At Carnegie Tech Next Tuesday

"Speaking of a Sputnik," a lecture open to the public, will be presented at Carnegie Institute of Technology at 4 p.m. next Thursday, by Dr. John G. Fox, Professor and Head of the Department of Physics at Carnegie.

The talk will be mainly non-technical explaining such things as a satellite's orbit, why it stays in the sky, how fast it has to go, and how accurately it has to be aimed. It will also describe the means by which a satellite can be raised into the sky, and the kind of information it is possible to obtain from one.

"Speaking of a Sputnik" will be given in lecture room 100 in Porter Hall on the Carnegie campus. Dr. Fox will also present the talk before an all-school assembly in the Carnegie Theater at 11:30 a. m. the same day.

Baptist Men in Fellowship Rally

Prof. Earl H. Tschudy, who will conduct a Bible conference next week at the First Baptist Church, will be the speaker at a men's fellowship rally tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the church.

Special music will be presented by a male quartette from Pittsburgh. Several men of the local church will also take part in the musical program. Refreshments will be served after the rally. All men of the church are invited to attend.

Trolley Strike Talks Halt in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Federal and state mediators today temporarily halted their efforts to end the 12-day Pittsburgh transit strike.

The mediators said they were pulling out until such time as either side indicated it was willing to move from its present position in deadlocked contract talks.

Federal Mediator G. Harry Young and state Mediator Joseph Bach said in a joint statement:

"We are recessing mediation activities for the present time.

"We are not at all unmindful of the seriousness of the situation. However, in view of the fact we can find no room for movement in the position of either party, it is useless to continue holding even separate sessions.

"Mediation activities will be resumed when we think the time is proper.

"We will, however, continue to be in touch with the representatives of both sides almost daily."

Young left this morning by plane for Harrisburg, Pa., where he had been assigned to another case.

The mediators met separately Thursday with negotiators for Pittsburgh Railways Company and Division 85, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes. The union represents the company's 2,200 striking trolley and operators.

The strike, which started Oct. 14, has deprived the Pittsburgh district of nearly all its mass public transportation facilities.

Young and Bach indicated they had informed both sides at Thursday's meetings that they were pulling out unless either party gave a little.

The mediators said both parties held fast to their pre-strike positions. The union is demanding a wage increase of 36 cents an hour. The company's "final" pre-strike offer was 16 cents, plus incorporation of a current 4-cent cost-of-living adjustment in the basic wage rate.

Bridge Tourney Winners Listed

The Magic City Bridge Club met last night at the Charleroi Elks Club with nine tables in play.

North-south winners were both from Charleroi, Mrs. Alice Fiscus and Mrs. Stella Buchta, first; Mrs. Rose Noble of Brownsville and Mrs. Howard Black of Denbo, second.

East-west winners were Mrs. Dan Dolfi of Charleroi and Mrs. Frederic Feldman of Belle Vernon; Brant South and Frank Protin, both of Charleroi, second.

State to Save Filing Money

HARRISBURG (UP)—The high cost of government was emphasized today with an announcement by the state Property and Supplies Department that it planned to save $50,000 annually by purchasing five-drawer filing cabinets rather than the conventional four drawer model.

Department Secretary Andrew M. Bradley advised all state agencies that only the five-drawer type cabinet would be purchased instead of the four-drawer model previously favored. Bradley added that the extra draw would provie 25 per cent more space.

Bradley said the state would now buy cabinets in large monthly lots instead of singly, for a $75 saving on each filing cabinet.

Getting Ready to Buy an Election?

THE WESTMORELAND County Democratic political machine, which in the past has been known to steal elections, seems now to be putting itself in position to buy one.

We do not know how else to account for the vast slush fund which this machine is accumulating and which probably is unprecedented for an election in which no state or federal offices are involved.

There is no way at this point to estimate the size of this fund. But the bigwigs have announced publicly receipts of nearly $55,000 from fund-raising dinners alone. It is known that the state, county and local payrolls are being tapped with more than usual thoroughness. And individual candidates are reported to be chipping in heavily.

Inevitably the question is raised: what is all this money for? And the record of this political machine being what it is with respect to clean elections, we are entitled to suspect that it is prepared to buy whatever votes are on the market.

Also, one wonders what this super-duper, high-powered organization is afraid of. It has a registration majority of nearly 51,000. It has virtually every elective office and every political job in the courthouse and in most of the municipalities of the county. And it is opposed by a Republican organization which, by comparison, is strictly bush-league.

* * *

WE THINK we have a good idea what the machine bosses are afraid of. They are afraid of the thinking people of Westmoreland County, the kind of people who can count to ten without using their fingers and who are intelligent enough and patriotic enough to split a ticket on election day when they think that will serve the best interests of the community.

These people know that the machine bosses systematically knocked down every Democratic lawyer of professional eminence who displayed interest in judicial service. The bosses don't want judges of this kind; they want tools through which to control the administration of justice.

They succeeded in nominating three such tools, three men who have been thoroughly drilled in the ways of machine politics. For as much as 20 years all of these candidates, Judges Bauer and Weiss and District Attorney Sculco, have walked the line.

The bosses can't let these candidates face the people on the real issues. They send them around the county to "teas" and "rallies" drummed up by public employes who ought to be at their jobs. And all they will talk about is high cost of living and how Democrats are better than Republicans, ignoring the fact that at one time or another they themselves were all Republicans.

What do issues like the integrity of the courts and the independence of judges mean to these cynical politicians? In their books it's money and jobs and hired "workers" that decide elections, not thinking people voting their convictions. Give them enough money and jobs and they can make judges out of political bootlickers.

Or can they?

Four years ago this outfit undoubtedly re-elected Mr. Sculco with mutilated ballots and false counts. Their huge registration majority disappeared because the people were fed-up with a do-nothing, see-nothing mediocrity who had welshed on his oath of office and turned the country over to racketeers and hoodlums.

Now this discredited official is one of their candidates for judge. And who doubts that they will stop at anything to elect him—anything they think they can get away with.

* * *

POLITICAL forecasting is not our business. But we'll risk the guess that that 51,000 registration majority will again shrink considerably by election day. And it could well disappear altogether.

That's what the machine bosses are afraid of. That's why they're collecting this huge slush fund. They're afraid the people won't swallow their weak candidates and the silly pap they are passing out as a substitute for adult discussion of the issues.

This machine wants absolute control of the courts through bossed judges. But if that's not what the people want, we doubt that the machine, thorough though it may be in its methods, can change their minds with money.

Last Chance

UNTIL tomorrow night the Monessen-Belle Vernon Civic Music Association will be accepting memberships for the coming season. This group renders an invaluable community service in making good music by noted artists available here to our own people and our Valley neighbors.

Former members who wish to renew and others who wish to enjoy the concerts and encourage this educational opportunity should enroll by Saturday, since the membership closes for the season at that time. Temporary Civic Music headquarters are at Rosenson's on Sixth street in Monessen, telephone MUrray 4-5773.

What's Behind Those Talks at White House

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Eisenhower, as they begin their highly important talks at the White House this week, find themselves in substantial agreement on what we are up against in new Soviet policy and tactics.

Mr. Drummond

That is something; that is very considerable. It may well be enough to enable them to do what each really wants to do: namely recreate the close Anglo - American military and political command which prevailed during the war.

The way Khrushchev is now rattling his missiles and his Sputniks, their conviction is that just as this kind of alliance was essential to winning World War II it is essential to averting World War III

It is too early to say how far Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Macmillan will be able to go but even at this stage in the talks it is clear that they are agreed on the following premises:

That we are at the beginning of the most dangerous period of the cold war during which Kremlin diplomacy will get colder and rougher.

That with the lead which the soviets have achieved in science and in missiles Moscow is prepared to pursue the most venturesome methods in an effort to: (1) create trouble for the West as in the Mid-East: (2) scare the uncommitted nations into the "protective" arms of the Kremlin: (3) break up NATO, and (4) force the West to accept as unalterable every inch of territory it has put under its heel since the war.

That the greatest danger is not a Soviet desire to risk war but that Khrushchev may get so cocksure and reckless that he will underestimate the West's determination to resist. (This is why Secretary Dulles warned Khrushchev that any attack on Turkey would bring the U. S. to her defense.)

Agreement Needed

It will take more than these personal talks to bring about the wide-ranging working agreements between the two governments which Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Macmillan have in mind. But such an agreement is in the making and it will have these objectives:

To pool the knowledge and intelligence of all the NATO scientists.

To equip NATO with nuclear weapons and with missiles as essential to deter Soviet aggression against any NATO country from Norway to Turkey, both of whom Moscow has been trying to intimidate.

To widen the base of common foreign policy by fuller consultation among all the NATO countries.

What makes the cold war more dangerous is that Khrushchev is doing today what the United States refrained from doing between 1945 and 1951 during the period we held a monopoly on atomic weapons. The United States did not brandish the atomic bomb; it did not threaten that "bombs would go off" if the Soviet Union did not free the satellite peoples of Eastern Europe. It did not use the atomic bomb to turn back the invasion of South Korea.

Right now Khrushchev is brandishing the works, including the moon, and there is no reason to expect that he will sheathe his threats until it is evident that they are not going to scare anybody or win anybody.

Many Changes

In the Middle East Khrushchev is busily engaged in stirring up trouble in order to see if he won't be invited in to quiet down what he has stirred up. His objective is not war in the Mid-East but Soviet power in the Mid-East, the lifeline of European industry.

Many times Moscow has rained down upon America its most horrendous charges.

Moscow charged that the U. S. started the war in Korea but a U. N. commission on the spot knew otherwise.

Moscow charged the U.S. used germ warfare in Korea and fabricated the evidence to prove it.

Moscow charged that the U. S. stirred up the Hungarians to revolt. A United Nations investigation disproved it.

And now it's Turkey. Nothing could be more welcome than to have a U. N. commission visit the Turkish-Syrian frontier. Too bad Moscow wouldn't let the U.N. into Hungary.

This is no time for politics-as-usual or business-as-usual or tax-reduction-as-usual. It is a time of for cool stamina.

Army Has Six Satellites Stored

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — One of the unpublished facts about the American "sputnik" snafu is that the Army has six satellites in a warehouse in Huntsville, Ala., all ready to launch. They could have been launched before the sputnik, thus keeping the USA ahead of the USSR in science, and preventing one of the greatest psychological defeats the United States ever suffered.

Mr. Pearson

But for some strange and mysterious reason, difficult to fathom, the Army was under orders not to launch these satellites.

About three months ago, the Budget Bureau, which operates directly under the White House, actually sent auditors to the Army's Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, to make sure the Army did not spend a nickel on the satellite program.

The six satellites, now gathering cobwebs in a Huntsville warehouse are complete with fibreglass, radio transmitter and gyro mechanism. They are elongated in shape, nicknamed by the Army the "baseball bat."

In trying to track down the reason why these satellites were sidetracked, this column ran into rigid government censorship. Every official connected with the military phase of the satellite program has been ordered not to talk to the press.

As far as can be ascertained, however, it was stringent economy and fear that the Eisenhower Administration might break through the debt ceiling regarding which Republicans had severly criticized the Truman Administration, that caused the peremptory order from the Budget Bureau. However, there were other important factors involved earlier, in switching the satellite program away from the Army. These also are hard to track down. But careful digging has brought to light the following facts.

Hitler Held Back Too

The Army project at Huntsville dates back to early 1954 when Dr. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland, Dr. Fred Whipple, Director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory, and Dr. Werner von Braun, the German rocket scientist, meeting in Washington outlined a plan to launch a man-made moon into the heavens.

Von Braun is the scientist who helped build the V-2 rocket for Hitler which caused such havoc in Britain toward the end of World War II. If it had been developed earlier, some military experts believe it might have knocked Britain out of the war. Von Braun, incidentally, had great trouble getting enough money out of Hitler, just as he has had trouble getting funds from Eisenhower. Von Braun is now an American citizen.

The satellite program back in 1954 called "Operation Orbiter" was made a joint interservice operation, though technically under the jurisdiction of the Navy. The Army's part of the operation was probably the most important — namely, to prepare the rocket gear for launching the satellite into space. To do this, the Army planned to use a big Redstone missile with a cluster of smaller Loki missiles.

Getting the satellite off the ground into outer space requires tremendous force, and one reason U.S. scientists are convinced Russia has the ICBM (intercontinental ballastic missile) is because a missile of major power must have been used to launch the sputnik.

The Army actually let a contract to the Aerophysics Corporation for the designing of the Loki cluster, plus another contract to the Alabama Engineering and Tool company to start building a composite missile, namely a big Redstone with the cluster of Lokis.

The work of the Navy in this partnership program was to put the instruments into the satellite, do the tracking after it was launched.

The work of the Air Force was to supply the logistics.

The work of Dr. Fred Singer at the University of Maryland was to design the satellite itself.

Teamwork between the services seemed to be excellent. The Navy, working with the Varo Manufacturing Company, made progress in studying the tracking of the satellite once it started whirling around the earth, and the project got so far that two ships under the command of Comdr. George Hoover were scheduled to be equipped to leave for the tracking stations.

Sudden Cancellation

Then suddenly, the Defense Department cancelled Operation Orbiter.

Cancellation was made on the recommendation of the so-called Stewart Committee, a group of government scientists headed by Dr. Homer Stewart of Cal Tech university. It renamed the project "Operation Vanguard," selected a brand-new Navy proposal for launching the satellite, and placed it entirely under the Navy. Previously the Navy was in charge of the instrument and the tracking, but not the launching — though it had little previous experience in this phase of the program.

Left out in the cold were the Army and Dr. Von Braun, previously in charge of the launching; also Dr. Singer.

Reasons for this switch will be the subject of a future column. Meanwhile Dr. Von Braun is convinced that if Operation Orbiter had been left alone, the Army could have launched a satellite far ahead of the Sputnik. In fact, the Army claims privately that any one of the six satellites assembled at Huntsville could have been launched six months ago instead of gathering cobwebs in an Alabama warehouse.

Note — President Eisenhower made an official announcement July 29, 1955 of the Operation Vanguard program. This column published the news on July 22.

Zhukov Is Downgraded On Visit to Yugoslavia

By CHARLES M. McCANN

Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov's treatment on his visit to Yugoslavia may indicate that he is not really a contender for top Soviet leadership.

Certainly, it seems to indicate that President Tito — who ought to know — does not regard him as a rival of Nikita S. Khrushchev for the Nov. 1 spot in the Kremlin.

Zhukov went to Yugoslavia in his capacity of Russian defense minister. He was returning a visit made to Russia by Gen. Ivan Gosnjak, Yugoslav state secretary for defense.

Officially, at least, Zhukov was treated as the defense minister of any other country would have been.

During his 10-day stay, Zhukov saw Tito just once. That was when he went to Tito's summer home in the Slovenian Mountains for a day of hunting and for a reception.

Toured Country

The rest of the time, Zhukov was entertained in Belgrade as the guest of Gosnjak and other high officers and was taken for a tour around the country to inspect military installations.

It seems entirely unlikely also that he would have paid so little attention to a man who, he thought, was breathing down Khrushchev's neck in a bid for leadership.

Zhukov, of course, is as much a Communist as Khrushchev is. He also is a member of the Communist Party Presidium which rules Russia.

Zhukov's support probably saved Khrushchev in the Kremlin dispute which resulted in the ousting of Georgi M. Malenkov, Vyacheslav M. Molotov and Lazar M. Kaganovich from the government at the Presidium. At that time, Zhukov was promoted from alternate to full membership in the Presidium.

There have been reports ever since that Zhukov, in command of the armed forces, was the real power in the Kremlin and that he might supplant Khrushchev as No. 1 man in the Soviet collective leadership.

Perhaps Non-Political

These reports may prove to be correct. But Zhukov's visit to Yugoslavia did nothing to substantiate them. The routine manner of his reception brings to mind the insistence of Russian experts before the Kremlin dispute that the Russian armed forces were not involved in politics and that Zhukov had no political ambitions.

Belgrade dispatches reported before Zhukov's arrival that he would try to sell Tito the idea of making Russia his sole source of arms, instead of getting weapons from the United States, and that Tito would refuse. After Zhukov's visit, the dispatches said that he seemed to have accomplished little if anything in negotiations.

It is true that during the visit Tito recognized the Communist puppet government of East Germany. But that hardly was a matter with which Zhukov was concerned.

One interesting thing about Zhukov's visit is that he went from Yugoslavia to Albania, the little Communist satellite country on the Adriatic Sea.

Russia has built up a formidable naval base there, at Sasebo, including facilities for submarines which could operate in the Mediterranean. It is possible that the visit to Albania ranked with or surpassed in importance the visit to Yugoslavia.

Successor Defends the Record of Judge Weiss

To the Editor:

I write with regard to an editorial appearing in the Daily Independent on Tuesday, Oct. 15, entitled "Look Who's Good For All The People". Having personal knowledge of some of the statements and charges leveled by you against Judge David H. Weiss in this editorial, I feel it necessary that the record be corrected.

In answer to your statement that Judge Weiss, as an assistant district attorney, never prosecuted a case, it should be known that he has prosecuted over 100 cases during his seven and one-half years of service as assistant district attorney. The records in the courthouse will so indicate. Moreover, as one who has tried many criminal cases, I have had occasion to observe him in the prosecuting of a case and find him to be most capable.

Relative to the meetings of Council, which you reported he neglected to attend, it should likewise be known that while I served with Judge Weiss as assistant city solicitor, there was only one occasion on which neither of us appeared. On that particular occasion it was not the result of Judge Weiss' neglect in any respect whatsoever. Due to the fact that Judge Weiss had made previous commitments, I promised him that I would attend this meeting and my failure to appear was due to illness.

Service as Solicitor

The charge that it was next to impossible to extract from him an opinion on a point of law can be refuted by myself as well as the members of Council referred to in the editorial. The progress of the City during Judge Weiss' service as solicitor amply attests to his competence. Behind that progress are many legal opinions of an intricate nature which can not be rendered hastily or given off-the-cuff. This point can be discussed in more detail; however, rather than belabor the issue, suffice it to say that Judge Weiss' work as solicitor and the opinions he rendered in that capacity are beyond reproach.

The legal work demanded by a progressive third class city is not only complicated and involved but demanding of much time and effort both on the part of the solicitor and the assistant solicitor. For example, in the past five years over 500 liens have been filed by the City of Monessen. This requires the extensive searching of titles and other related research. That work was done entirely by Judge Weiss. Having been associated with him as assistant city solicitor, I can say the burden was shared equally.

It is not my intent to take issue with you or your right to express an opinion by way of an editorial. I felt it mandatory that I submit this letter for the purpose of clarification and correcting the record as above stated.

Frank P. Ezerski Jr.

(Editor's Note — As lawyers sometimes do, Mr. Ezerski is dodging the issue, behind a technicality. Judge Weiss may appear as the prosecutor of record in 100 routine and minor cases, including no doubt many guilty pleas. But let Mr. Ezerski name any important cases in which Judge Weiss directed the investigations, prepared the indictments, and then presented the evidence to a judge and jury in a courtroom and secured convictions. That is what we mean by prosecuting a case, and we stand on our statement that Judge Weiss had been collecting about $5,000 a year as an assistant district attorney and doing nothing of consequence to earn the money.

(As for his service as city and school district solicitor, this paper covers all the meetings of these public bodies. And it knows that when Mr. Ezerski claims Judge Weiss' service was "beyond reproach" he is not reflecting the privately expressed sentiments of many councilmen and school directors.

(It may seem noble of Mr. Ezerski to defend the record of the man whom he has succeeded both as solicitor and assistant district attorney. But the facts strongly support the point of our editorial, which was that Judge Weiss has taken far more out of politics — in cold cash — than he has ever returned in the form of competent service. We stand on our position that there is nothing in the record to suggest that he is qualified for judicial service.)

Mary Kalamaras Is Wed to Local Man

Mary Kalamaras, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kalamaras, 421 Fallowfield Ave., Charleroi, became the bride of Theodore Mermigas on Sunday, Oct. 20, in St. Spyridon Greek Orthodox Church

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs Argiro Mermigas of 536 Ninth St, Monessen, and the late John Mermigas

Vows were exchanged at 4 o'clock in the afternoon before the Rev Ioakim Isidorides, church pastor. The church choir sang the responses with Mary Georgagis at the organ

The bride was given in marriage by her father For the occasion the church was decorated with ferns and gladiolus at the altar The aisle used by the bridal party was lined with white crash and white satin bows indicated the family pews

Wears White

Pure silk peau de soie was chosen by the bride for her white bridal gown It was styled with a sabrina neckline of re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls and crystal sequins, long pointed sleeves, full skirt appliqued with lace and ending in a chapel length train. Her veil of pure silk illusion was fingertip length and was held to a cap of re-embroidered Alencon lace emphasized with seed pearls and crystal sequins with a drop pearl in the center of her forehead She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid and intermingled with twining ivy

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Manos exchanged the traditional orange blossom crowns for the ritual Mrs Manos wore a turquoise ballerina length gown of nylon chiffon with a high neckline, cummerbund and full skirt. Her corsage was an orchid.

Georgina Kalamaras, sister of the bride, was maid of honor She wore a gown of American Beauty red satin styled with a high empire waistline, cap sleeves and a full skirt The scoop neckline was accented with a bow in the back with streamers that fell to the floor Her headpiece was a dior bow of matching material, and she carried a bouquet of white fugi mums and twining ivy tied with a white bow.

Attired Alike

Bridesmaids were Kay Mermigas, sister of the bridegroom, and Irene Missiriotis, cousin of the bride They were attired identically to the maid of honor. Their bouquets were of white carnations and ivy with white bows

Maria Manos, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a white gown of nylon organdy with an American Beauty red sash Another flower girl was Loretta Hadjantoni of Detroit, goddaughter of the bride Her gown was of white nylon marquisette with a white sash Both carried lace baskets filled with rose petals

Georgie Apodiakos, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Ushers were Pete Kalamaras, bride's brother, and Ted Apodiakos, the cousin of the bridegroom

The mother of the bride chose to wear a navy blue ensemble for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were pink and blue, and her corsage was an orchid. The mother of the bridegroom wore poudre blue lace with beige and black accessories and an orchid corsage

Wedding Dinner

Dinner for about 230 guests was served at the Slovak Home after the ceremony The reception held there later was attended by about 400 guests from New York, New Jersey, Michigan and surrounding towns A four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple centered the bride's table

When the couple left for a trip to Miami, Fla, the bride was wearing a dior blue wool sheath dress with white and black accessories, a fur jacket and a white orchid corsage When they return they will reside at 1015 Knox Ave in their newly furnished apartment.

The bride was graduated from Charleroi High School and is employed as an assistant cashier at Montgomery Ward Co. in Charleroi. The groom was graduated from Monessen High School and is employed at the Coke Plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Co

A wedding rehearsal was held on Saturday evening and a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride The bride gave her attendants gloves and pearl earrings, and the bridegroom gave his attendants cuff links and tie bars

MHS Officials Hope to Card Game

ON THE BALL

By CLAIR BROWN

Deacon Dan Plugs Conference Fete

Deacon Dan (now Rev.) Towler joined the long list of celebrities who have tabbed the Big Five (formerly Big Six) Banquet as one of the finest in the country . . . We imagine you caught that quote from Dan in the story about the Donora-Los Angeles Rams grid star turned minister, by Lou Kichinko in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Independent . . . It went something like this: "Tell those Mon Valley sportswriters their banquet is the finest I've ever attended" — and he has attended quite a few . . . Remember the date of the 1957 affair is Dec. 11 . . . . Information on the main speaker will be forthcoming about Nov. 11 . . . Incidentally that picture of Lou and Rev. Towler which ran with the story, was taken by a former Monessenite Dave (Hooks) McLaughlin, with whom Lou stayed while in California.

Former Duquesne U. cage stars Dick and Dave Ricketts continue their athletic exploits on the diamond, the older ex-Duke posting a 12-9 pitching mark and Dave clubbed the ball at a .306 pace . . . Both play for Rochester in the International League . . . Here's some more names of Belle Vernonites planning on taking in the Pitt - Notre Dame clash tomorrow. Paul Zubovic, Steve Gay, Eddie Kurowski, Bucky Catrino and probably Mr. and Mrs. Silla (Sack) Valdiserri, parents of Roger, secretary to Terry Brennan (if they can get the bakery closed in time or get someone to "watch" it) . . . Charleroi's Ron Cosner will miss the Clairton tilt, so the quarterback duties will be taken over by sophomore Gary Hogan.

Celebrates 84th Birthday with Golf Win

Here's something for you "young guys" to mull over . . . Mr. Charles Williams, Sr. of 1162 Graham Ave., celebrated his 84th birthday this week by playing nine holes of golf against Bill Jones, the greenskeeper at Mon Valley Country Club and beating Jones, 1 up . . . It was the second year in succession the 84-year-young golfer had beaten Jones on his (Mr. Williams) birthday, and by the same score . . . To make the story even better, they would have played 18 holes except for the rain! , , , Mr. Williams plays golf twice a week with his family, especially granddaughters Janie and Susie . . . Janie is on the golf team at Dennison College. Susie, just 13, is now good enough to occasionaly take the measure of "gramps."

Another report from Elon (North Carolina) College lists Bob Kopko of Monessen as playing an outstanding game in Elon's 37-14 win over Presbyterian College of Clinton, S. C. . . . Archie DiCenzo, most-recently approved Monessen grid official worked the Midget League games here Tuesday night along with Francis (Slops) Delmastro of Belle Vernon and ol' Reliable Bud Roman. Local officials deserve a big hand for helping the Midgets but the out-of-towners are entitled to an extra round of cheers for their efforts . . . They work the games gratis, you you know . . . Speaking of Tuesday's Midget games, Monessen High Faculty Manager Armand Mori, who has done just about every job at a football game, took on a new duty Tuesday — working the sticks until help arrived.

Latest WPIAL Class A, AA Ratings

Here's the latest up-to-date point ratings in Class A and AA; Class AA — New Kensington 120; Uniontown 116.7; McKeesport 115; Clairton 111.7; Wilkinsburg 108.8; Brownsville 105; Hempfield and West View 100 . . . Class A — Carnegie 122.5; Derry 120; Beaver 117; Hurst 115; Braddock 11.5; North Union 106.7; South Union, Glassport and California, all 105 . . . Ironically, Wilkinsburg has won the most AA tilts, Beaver the most A games but they rank fifth and third respectively in the race, but New Kensington, still showing only one AA win, is in first, Carnegie the top A eleven, has four wins (close enough) . . . Avella is still the No. 1 B team . . . Of course you know that opponents' victories give a conqueror (in a previous game) additional points.

Today's Sports Parade—

Tokyo Golf Press Tag 'Out of This World'

By OSCAR FRALEY

TOKYO, Saturday (UP) — I'll take no guff from the horse show Gimbles and I'd growl right back at Ch. Warlord of Mazelaine but if the fight mob could see Fearless Fraley today I'd be laughed right out of town.

The reason is the press ribbon issued for the International Trophy and Canada Cup golf matches at Kasumigaseka Country Club. It's a pink silk rosette the size of a Vermont pancake, enhanced by a broad red silk tail, and every typewriter termite on the grounds feels like a cross between Sweet Little Alice Blue Gown and Gorgeous George.

It is, without doubt, the sexiest press badge this side of the old Minsky circuit and contains more silk than those ladies wore even on Sunday.

Best Of Breed

Every man in the press tent, few of whom have enough courage to venture forth before darkness, feels as if he has won best of breed and is waiting only for the call to the main ring for the judging of best of show.

"I," said Ch. Red Smith of the New York Herald Tribune, "feel like a basset."

This, it should be explained without delay, is a short-legged hound. No further comment seems necessary.

"And I," added Ch. Herb Graffis of Golfing Magazine, running a hand through what he laughingly referred to as his hair, "certainly must be best in breed among the airedales."

"First time one of us whippets have been in the finals for a long time," interjected Ch. Herb Wind of Sports Illustrated.

Old Fearless chose to ignore the remark that a certain member of the party looked like a schnauzer with the mange. After all, they'll be sorry when I finally win best in show.

Logic Behind Pink

Yet I couldn't help but feel that, as Vassar-ish as these flowing silk press rosettes appear, the Japanese may have something here after all.

Certainly a marshal with astigmatism could see this press ribbon a tee shot away in a San Francisco fog. The pink is heightened by a red silk background which is rosier than the face of a guy who entered the wrong powder room. And there have been times when quick identification would have saved me more than embarrassment.

W. Newton Drops 12-0 Encounter

West Newton High School's exhilaration at topping Perry last week was tempered somewhat last night at Ellsworth as the Tigers took a 12-0 decision from the Hornets.

Tiger back Joe Johnson scored the initial Ellsworth tally on a 52-yard run in the first period.

Rich Zukauckas set up the Tigers' second score, sprinting 20 yards on a pass interception to the West Newton nine. From that spot, Rich Dziak passed to John Maczuzak in the end zone.

Ellsworth also threatened late in the second period. Lou Collins bolted over tackle and galloped 30 yards to the Hornets' two on the final play of the first half.

West Newton made it to the Ellsworth eight in the second quarter.

The Tigers rolled up 10 first downs. The Hornets moved the sticks five times.

Score by periods:

Ellsworth	6	0	0	6	—12
West Newton	0	0	0	0	— 0

Touchdowns: Ellsworth — Johnson. Maczuzak.

All Nine WPIAL Contenders to Play Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

All nine teams in the race for the WPIAL Class AA championship see action tonight or Saturday night. Contenders meet in two of the games.

West View will meet Baldwin tonight at Baldwin to see which team stays in the race, while Wilkinsburg will travel to Hempfield Saturday for a contest to determine which team will be eliminated.

Other AA games tonight, involving contenders, are:

Brownsville at Donora, Charleroi at Clairton, McKeesport at Duquesne; New Kensington at Harbrack; Uniontown at Mt. Lebanon. Brownsville, Clairton, McKeesport, Uniontown and New Kensington are the contenders.

Six Class A contenders are also scheduled to play tonight. Hurst and Derry, both in the running, play at Derry, while Carnegie and Glassport, both contenders, meet at Glassport.

Defending champion Braddock hosts New Brighton, while Shaler, also in contention, will host Mt. Pleasant Ramsay.

McShanes Chains Lose, Keep Lead

McShane's Chains stayed in first place despite a loss in yesterday's Open Hearth Riggers League action.

Larry Evancho with a 521 and John Deeds Jr. had the single high of 215. Other top scorers were Blackie Josephs, Jack Vance, John Olchak, Joe Koget, Sage Salay and Whitey Sawich.

Standings — McShane's Chains 15-9, Frables Cables 14-10, McVickers Riggers 13-12, and Van Shura Squads 7-17.

Szabo Paces Scoring In Blast Furnace

Top honors in Blast Furnace League Bowling went to R. Czabo with a 256-508 card last night. Close behind was C. Ellen with a 211-477.

H. Crespo, E. Hasch, J. Rock and N. Carrozza were also high as Blow Room, Pig Machine and Electrical won their matches over Mechanical, Cast House and Steam Plant.

Standings — Cast House 18-6, Electrical 16-8, Steam Plant 12-12, Pig Machine 10-14, Mechanical 9-15 and Blow Room 7-17.

Rostraver Juniors Defeat Vernon, 21-6

Coach Ed Hogan's Rostraver Junior High defending Valley Conference champions made it two wins without a loss, topping Vernon, 21-6, at Bellmar Stadium yesterday afternoon.

Long drives or runs featured the game with very little passing on the somewhat muddy field.

After a scoreless first quarter Rostraver took off on a 60 yard drive climaxed by Ray Allen's four-yard plunge. Willie Ross then ran for the extra point and a 7-0 lead.

55-Yard TD Run

Later in the second period, Allen wheeled around end and kept on going 55 yards for a second Little Leopard score. Ross again added the extra point on a run.

Vernon made it 14-6 when Tom Johnston went over against his former mates from one yard out after a 50-yard drive.

Rostraver added an insurance marker on the last play of the game when Ross went 10 yards around end to paydirt to cap an 80-yard drive spearheaded by Allen Ross and Frank Peto who added the extra point on a plunge.

Due to postponements it was only the second game this season for Rostraver, the third for Vernon.

First down favored Rostraver, 10-5.

Swansick, Greco Top BMM League

Steve Swansick and Ralph Greco were in top form as they rolled the high scores in the Blooming Mill Millwrights League last night. Swansick had a 550 three-game high, Greco a 249 single game high.

Last night's winners were Geiselharts, Aiellos, Brennimans.

Other top point-makers were Ray Echart, Leonard Pushkar, Tom Horan, Bob McKeever, John Apodiakos, Bill Mullen, Joe Miller, Ray Calderone, John DeLuca, Leon Delzangle and Edward Smith.

Standings — Geiselharts, McVickers, Brennimans, Furio, Bethems, and Aiellos.

Locals Need Three MV Wins Tonight

The Monessen entry in the Mon Valley Ladies League bowls the Charleroi entry at Grand Parlor alleys tonight at 9:15 o'clock needing three games to tie them for second place.

Uniontown continues to pace the league with a 17-4 record, followed by Charleroi Grand with 14-7, the locals with tied with Bentleyville and Fredericktown with 11-10 marks followed by Belle Vernon, Charleroi, New Moon, and Connellsville with 9-12 records. Donora has an 8-13 standings with Scottdale showing a 6-15 card.

Winners in recent matches were Uniontown over Scottdale, the locals over Belle Vernon, Charleroi Grand over Connellsville, Donora over Charleroi New Moon and Bentleyville over Fredericktown.

Top scorers were Inez Edkman of Scottdale, Martha Venturini of Uniontown, Lona Kuhn of Belle Vernon, Pauline Burdock of Monessen, Nancy Hudock of Connellsville, Verne Ellsworth of Charleroi and, Elsie Cardis of Donora, Mona Negro of Charleroi New Moon, Mary Fefolt of Bentleyville and Marge Metris of Fredericktown.

Martha Venturini has the top average with the Uniontown bowler showing a 156.06 card.

Three Signed

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Tigers have signed three young outfielders to non-bonus contracts. They are John Fourcade of Gretna, La., Irving Lyndes of North Stratford, N.H., and Lionel Lindgren of Fayette, Ohio.

Rostraver, Bellmar In Action

Rostraver and Bellmar both travel tonight for games with Scottdale and California respectively.

Both local entries are in good condition after their "backyard" tussle last week which the Hurricanes won 13-0.

California, Bellmar's foe, is unbeaten and very much in the Class A race while Scottdale is a "hot and cold" team capable of stopping any team with it's high-powered offensive which scores like 31-20, 44-21, etc. will bear out.

Coach Bap Manzini will name Kubin and Cranford at ends, with Comadena also ready, Grant and Schmidt at tackles, O'Toole and Burgess at guards, Mullen at center with Petras or Coates at quarterback, Swiantek and Greco at halves and Kostelac at full if his leg, injured in the Rostrave. game, holds up.

Rostraver mentor Wade Bender will call upon Snyder and Hale at ends, Karbowsky and Strong or Kirschner at tackles, Siech and Matova at guards, Captain John Bankston at center, Bob Keith or Pierce at quarterback, Allen and Burkes at halves and Kuhn at fullback.

Pitt to Start Regular Backs

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Pitt coach John Michelosen indicated today he would go with his regular first string backfield against Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Saturday.

This would mean that Bill Kaliden will start at quarterback, Dick Haley and Joe Scisly at halfback positions and Fred Riddle at fullback.

Dick Bowen, out most of the season with an injured leg, was expected to see action as a substitute for Haley at left halfback.

The Panthers left for South Bend this morning by plane. They were to conduct a drill session late in the afternoon after their arrival.

Approximately 1,200 fans were expected to make the trip to see the game.

Eugene Jones High In GP City Loop

Eugene Jones led the GP City Bowling League last night with a terrific 240-577 card with Reggie Szabo and Sage Salay also over the 200 and 500 mark. George Curry and Joe Koget weren't far behind the leaders in the 500 class with Beaner Nelson and Harry Myers just below the magic mark.

Cousins and Elks won the matches over Aquarium and Cro-Ams.

Standings — Cousins 14-4, Cro-Ams 10-8, Elks 10-8 and Aquarium 2-16.

Centerville Wins, Stays in B Race

Centerville High shoved over a first-period touchdown and made it stand up for a 7-0 victory over a stubborn Jefferson-Morgan team last night as two records remained intact.

Centerville remained in the thinning ranks of WPIAL Class B contenders, while the Rockets lost their fifth straight contest.

Grid Tilt Wanted For Tomorrow To Replace Johnnies

Monessen High School officials this morning were still dickering for a football game for tonight or tomorrow night after an "almost set" contest failed to materialize yesterday.

Due to the many postponements in past weeks all schools are making up games this wee and the postponed schedule is very sparse but Monessen High Principal Henry Furio stated this morning that "We will keep trying all today and even this evening to get a game for tomorrow night to replace Johnstown."

The Johnstown-Monessen contest was set for here tonight up until yesterday afternoon when Johnnie officials called to say the flu bug had bitten too heavily in that area to permit a game.

Tilt Almost Set

Efforts were immediately made here to schedule a substitute game and it appeared a tilt with Washington was going to work out fine with an open date on the Little Prexies' card.

It was learned from head coach Emil Dupke, however, that arrangements had been completed to take the Washington High squad to the Pitt-Syracuse game tomorrow and it was impossible to cancel the arrangements at this late date.

Efforts to card a game with Freedom, Penn Township and Sewickley Township also fell through.

Postponements are getting to be a habit for the locals with games with Brownsville and Hempfield also called off until later or perhaps cancelled.

Zanardelli Leader In BV K of C Loop

St. Sebastian held on to first place in the Belle Vernon Knights of Columbus Bowling League action last night with a 3-0 win over St. Joseph while St. James was topping St. John.

Bello Zanardelli led all bowlers with a 400 three-game score and a 150 single game mark.

Other top point-makers were Sam Fiornio, Joe Sabolek, Mike Semancik, Fabian and Ken Stickel.

Standings — St. Sebastian 16-8, St. James 13-11, St. John 12-12, St. Joseph 7-17.

John Apodiakos In Top GAPA Games

John Apodiakos showed a 208, 460 single and three-game mark to lead the GAPA Bowling League action last night.

Others scoring top marks were George Papantonakis, Augie Grillo, Coon Ranallo, Chuck Miller and Gus Manos.

The Spartans and Zeus teams topped the Apollos and Thors to stay in first place with 15-6 marks. The Thors show a 11-10 record and Apollos a 1-20 chart.

College Games Stopped Again By Flu Bug

By UNITED PRESS

The flu epidemic, knocking down whole football teams as no blocker ever could, has forced cancellation of 13 games scheduled for this weekend and postponement of five others.

However, busy athletic departments scurried around and managed to schedule replacement games, while Beloit College is still shopping for a Saturday opponent today.

Elon College of North Carolina was the most frustrated. First its scheduled game with Catawba was cancelled, so it arranged a replacement game with Davidson, which badly needed an opponent for its homecoming game because flu had forced Presbyterian to cancel out of that date. Then flu hit Davidson so severely that the college cancelled its whole homecoming celebration, including the football game with Elon.

Other games cancelled: Massachusetts vs Northeastern; Ft. Hays vs Empria State; Humbolt State (Calif.) vs Western Washington; Dickinson vs Wagner; Franklin-Marshall vs Albright; Brandeis vs New Hampshire; Grove City vs Susquehanna; Missouri School of Mines vs Southeastern Missouri State Teachers; Sierra Junior College vs San Jose State freshmen; Hobart vs Union; Valparaiso vs St. Joseph's (Ind.).

Games postponed: Presbyterian vs Davidson; Beloit vs Central State of Wisconsin; Eastern Kentucky State vs Youngstown (Ohio) and California Poly vs Santa Barbara College.

Replacement games: Hamilton Field Flyers vs Humbolt; Waynesburg vs Albright; Wagner vs Grove City; Missouri Mines vs Emporia (Kans.) and Brandeis vs Northeastern.

Wagner and Missouri Mines, mindful of what happened to Davidson, have their fingers crossed. Both have big homecoming celebrations scheduled Saturday and desperately need football opponents. Wagner, for instance, has ordered hot dogs for a crowd of 5,000-6,000.

Meanwhile, Notre Dame had some old-fashioned news. It has lost center-guard Dave Hurd. Not Asian flu. Appendectomy.

Wash - Jeff Hosts Carnegie Tech; Vulcans - Clarion

By UNITED PRESS

A Washington and Jefferson football team, softened by inactivity due to the closing of the school for a week during the flu epidemic, hosts Carnegie Tech in a top Western Pennsylvania game Saturday.

The Red and Black, riddled by the virus infection, has been spending the week in an effort to get conditioned for the Homecoming Day encounter.

In other games: Bethany hosts Allegheny, Geneva travels to Shippery Rock, Juniata hosts Westminster, St. Vincent and Baldwin Wallace meet on a neutral field, Thiel travels to St Lawrence, and Grove City travels to Susquehanna.

In games involving state teachers schools: Bloomsburg travels to King's, California hosts Clarion in a night game; Indiana hosts Lock Haven in a night game, and Shippensburg plays on home ground in a night game against Millersville

Frank Buscanics will give a play-by-play radio account of the California - Clarion game over Station WESA, Charleroi, tomorrow afternoon at the "Dad's Day" starting at 1:45 o'clock.

Parker Practices Steelers in Rain

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers practiced in the rain Thursday as Coach Buddy Parker took advantage of all available time to whip his squad in shape for the Philadelphia Eagles game Sunday.

Rookie Jack Nisby had the inside track to start at right guard in the game at Forbes Field. The former College of Pacific player replaced Sid Fournet, released Tuesday.

Nisby previously had been filling in at right end for injured Bill McPeak.

Early season team statistics showed Fran Rogel was the leading Steeler ground gainer with 95 yards in 31 attempts.

End Jack McClairen had the best record for catching passes, taking in 11 passes for 178 yards.

Earl Morrall led the passers, with 47 completions in 93 attempts

Colorado Tries Again to Upset Sooners; Almost Did Last Season

By FRANK LITSKY

The University of Colorado Buffaloes, who almost buffaloed the national college football champions from Oklahoma last year, try again Saturday in one of the leading games nationally.

Then, as now, Oklahoma was ranked No. 1 by the United Press Board of Coaches. Then, as now, Oklahoma's ground attack, speed and bench strength made it a heavy favorite But Colorado's crunching running game rolled up 191 yards and a 19- lead by halftime, only to have Oklahoma's superior depth pay off in a 27-19 victory.

Although Oklahoma is a 27-point favorite this time, Colorado again has that striking power to rank first in the nation in rushing (333 yards per game) and third in total offense (431 yards per game). Still, Oklahoma figures to check the Buffs with a defense that has held the opposition to only 101 yards a game rushing, fifth best in the country.

Duke Rated For Bowl

An Oklahoma victory would be its 45th straight and would all but assure the Sooners of another Big Eight championship plus an Orange Bowl trip. The other Orange Bowl team probably will be the winner of the Saturday game between Duke and North Carolina State, the only unbeatens in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Duke is a seven-point choice.

In other Saturday headliners, second-ranked Iowa, versatile enough to rank first nationally in both total offense and rushing defense, is favored by 16 points over Northwestern; third-ranked Texas A & M is an eight-point choice over Baylor, a major hurdle in the Aggies' quest for the Southwest Conference title and a Cotton Bowl berth; and Oregon, best bet for the role of Rose Bowl host, rates seven points over California.

The Oklahoma - Colorado and Duke-North Carolina State games will be televised regionally. So will Michigan at Minnesota, Washington State at Southern California and Penn State at Syracuse. The favorites are Michigan by five points, Washington State by one and Syracuse by six.

Miami Over Kansas

In the only major game Friday night, Miami of Florida, with a disappointing 1-2-1 record so far, is a 14-point choice over Kansas. The collegiate weekend actually started Thursday when Clemson, led by sophomore quarterback Harvey White, rolled to a 13-0 upset victory over South Carolina in their annual state fair tussle at Columbia, S C.

Other Saturday favorites:

Intersectional: Notre Dame over Pittsburgh, Auburn over Houston, Army over Virginia, Mississippi over Arkansas, Villanova over Indiana, Texas Christian over Marquette, Cincinnati over College of Pacific, Tulsa over Air Force Academy, Rutgers over Richmond, North Texas State over San Jose State. Detroit-Boston Collete is "even money."

Picks Lehigh To Win

East: Dartmouth over Harvard. Princeton over Cornell, Navy over Pennsylvania, Yale over Colgate, Lehigh over Columbia, Brown over Rhode Island, Holy Cross over Boston University.

Midwest: Ohio State over Wisconsin, Michigan State over Illinois, Missouri over Nebraska, Iowa State over Kansas State, Purdue over Miami of Ohio, Xavier of Ohio over Dayton.

South: Kentucky over Georgia, Louisiana State over Florida, Georgia Tech over Tulane, Mississippi State over Alabama, North Carolina over Wake Forest, West Virginia over William & Mary, Virginia Military over George Washington, The Citadel over Furman, Virginia Tech over Florida State. Maryland-Tennessee is rated "pick 'em."

Southwest: Rice over Texas, Texas Tech over Arizona, West Texas State over Hardin-Simmons.

Far West: Oregon State over Washington, UCLA over Stanford, Idaho over Fresno State, Utah over Wyoming, Utah State over Colorado State, Denver over Brigham Young, New Mexico over Montana.

Clemson Defeats South Carolina on 'Big Thursday'

By TOM PRICE

COLUMBIA, S C. (UP)— Sophomore quarterback Harvey White sparked Clemson in two swift thrusts Thursday to an upset victory over South Carolina, 13-0, before 44,029 fans who were dampened by pre-game showers but sat in sunshine at the end.

White, 200-pound son of the Greenwood County, S C., sheriff, got the Tigers started toward the upset in the annual state fair classic between the two state-supported schools late in the second period after a South Carolina drive stalled at the Tiger 14.

White ran for 21 yards when he couldn find a pass receiver, threw 28 yards to halfback Bill Mathis at the South Carolina 15, then found his other halfback Sonny Quesenberry, open at the six. Quesenberry stumbled into the end zone with little more than a minute left in the half.

The second drive, 72 yards in only four plays, featured a 60-yard White pass to end Whitie Jordan who caught the ball at the 23. Jordan fumbled the ball out of bounds as he raced toward the end zone.

Fullback Rudy Hayes then smashed over from the one and White converted.

The loss was the second straight to Clemson for youthful South Carolina coach Warren Giese, who has yet to see his team score on the arch-rival Tigers. Clemson won 7-0 last year and went on to the Orange Bowl.

It was the 32nd win for the Tigers since the ancient series began in 1896. South Carolina has won 20.

The annual classic, known as Big Thursday, is scheduled to go out of existence in 1959 at the insistence of Clemson.

North Dakota Back Small College Offense Leader

NEW YORK (UP)—Steve Piasecki of North Dakota, picking up most of his yardage on passes, has moved into first place among the total offense leaders in the small college football ranks.

According to the latest figures released by the NCAA Service Bureau, Piasecki totaled 1,010 yards in his first six games to open a big lead over his rivals. Bob Webb of St. Ambrose was second with 884 yards, four more than Jay Forlen of Pepperdine, while Norm Jarock of St. Norbert slipped from first to fourth with 872 yards.

Piasecki completed nine of 17 passes against North Dakota State last Saturday to maintain his lead in the pitching department. He has completed 62 passes for 992 yards and 10 touchdowns. Teammate Bob Herrick was tops among the pass receivers with 29 receptions.

Although he did not play last week, Jarock still led the rushers with 700 yards gained, Don Polkinghorne of Washington (St. Louis) was tops in punting with a 47.8-yard average, and Leonard Lyles of Louisville was the highest individual scorer with 11 touchdowns and four conversions for 70 points.

In the team statistics, Grambling (La.) led in total offense with an average of 470 yards gained per game; Florida A&M yielded only 44.5 yards per contest to lead in total defense; Mississippi Vocational was tops in passing with a 189-yard average, and Florida A&M was the rushing leader with a 398-yard mark.

Los Angeles Out To Win NL Flag

LOS ANGELES (UP)— The Los Angeles Dodgers were on record today as the club that's out to win the National League pennant next year.

Dodger Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi told newsmen at the ball club's first press conference in their new home Thursday that Walt Alston had been signed for his fifth year as Dodger manager along with shortstop-captain PeeWee Reese.

"They will lead us to a National League pennant next year," Bavasi said proudly.

The spirited press conference was called only a few hours after the Dodgers had arrived in Los Angeles to set up their new headquarters

Bavasi, who was questioned about the possibility that Alston and Reese had received a salary boost for the '58 season, told newsmen. "we don't give raises when we don't win." The indication was that both men had signed for around $35,000 cash.

AL Attendance Above '56 Mark

CHICAGO (UP) — Attendance at American League games during last season was 3.8 per cent above that for 1956.

The league reported Thursday that six teams figured prominently in the attendance total of 8,196,218 led by the Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers had the biggest increase at home, 221,164, and a total of 1,272,346.

The New York Yankees registered 1,497,134, the largest home attendance, and also led in road attendance with 1,838,424. However, the Chicago White Sox showed the biggest road attendance gain, 127,436 more than 1956.

State's Syracuse Tilt Rates 'Toughest' Rag

UNIVERSITY PARK (UP) — Penn State meets undefeated Syracuse Saturday in a contest rated by the New York state team as their "toughest" to date.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse seems on the way towards another successful season, following the team's winning of the Lambert Trophy last year. The Orange has defeated Boston University, Cornell and Nebraska while tying Iowa, in competition so far this season.

"We know they have a real fine outfit. Al Jacks is a solid quarterback and passer and Dave Kasperian has come along exceptionally well as a runner," Schwartzwalder said.

The two teams have been meeting annually since 1922. The Nittany Lions hold a slight edge in the series, but since State coach Rip Engle and Schwartzwalder have been opponents, each team has won three games.

In the all-time series which was interrupted for one year during World War II, the Lions boast 16 wins to Syracuse's 13. Five games ended in ties.

Syracuse won last year in a thrilling 13-9 contest.

Busso Favored Over Gale Kerwin In Tonight's Go

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UP)— Lightweight contender Johnny Busso is favored at 12-5 to beat Gale Kerwin, the second substitute, tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Canadian-born Kerwin of Valley Stream, N.Y., is substituting for Sonny Boy Williams, who was substituting for Italian Paolo Rosi. Both Rosi and Williams were bedded by the flu.

Busso of New York, 23, objected to Kerwin as a replacement because of his proficiency with the left hook. Johnny always had a weak defense against left hooks However, no other capable substitute was available.

Accordingly, 22-year-old Kerwin will square off for his first Garden main event at 10 p m e d t; and it will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC

Busso, a solid favorite, ranked ninth among contenders for the 135-pound title, has 19 knockouts on his 30-5-1 record Kerwin has only six on his 24-4-1 list. But unranked Gale has been improving his punch this year, by coming down off his toes and setting more to hit.

Farm Game Opener Tomorrow Brings 'Dry Condition' Warning

HARRISBURG (UP)—The opening of the farm game season Saturday has prompted a warning of fire hazards throughout the Commonwealth because of "extremely dry conditions."

Forests and Waters Secretary Maurice K. Goddard cautioned hunters that prolonged drought conditions have "left much of Pennsylvania with an exceptionally low water supply.

"Although some rain fell prior to the opening of turkey, grouse and squirrel season, this precipitation could not alleviate accumulated shortages of the past summer," Goddard said. "The presence of thousands of additional visitors in the woods and fields could cause fires which might prove disastrous under present conditions."

The state Game Commission looks for a turnout of a heavy percentage of the estimated one million hunters eligible to draw heads on rabbits, pheasants and quail this weekend.

"But we don't see how it can be much bigger than the crowd which opened the forest game season last weekend," one official said.

The commission estimated about 300,000 sportsmen visited the wooded sections of the state in quest of game last weekend. The turnout was up from 20 to 50 per cent over the opening day of the 1956 season in the north central and northeastern regions, according to game wardens.

Game in Good Supply

The rabbit and pheasant population should provide excellent hunting this season. The commission has stocked 44,500 of the desirable birds in woodlands since last spring in the ratio of two cocks to every three hens. In addition about 10,000 quail have been released.

Rabbits are plentiful, even more so than last season, the commission said.

Commission officials had a final word for the vast throng of sportsmen who people the game lands of the state during the season—play it "cool."

"Each year a surprising percentage of casualties are persons who shoot themselves in falling, pulling a gun by the barrel or doing something silly with an instrument to kill game but just as lethal to humans.

"Records show that persons of all ages and all degrees of experience become victims of carelessness, greed for game excitement or lack of emotional control when game is sighted."

The farm game section of the season will extend through Nov. 30 but the season on forest game closes a week earlier.

Young People in Halloween Party

A Halloween party for the young people of the First Methodist Church will be held at 9 o'clock on Saturday night in the church social rooms.

Preceding that time the group will canvas the community in a "trick or treat" campaign for UNICEF, the United Nations International Childrens Emergency Fund. This fund is being raised to meet maternal, nutritional and medical needs for the children of the countries in the UN.

All young people who are assisting under the direction of the councilor, Nancy Hixenbaugh, are asked to meet at the church at 6:30 to begin their visiting promptly at 7.

The young people are to wear masquerade costumes, but instead of only receiving a treat for themselves they ask the community residents to give them pennies for UNICEF.

Guild to Attend Study Class

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church will attend the study class on "Christ the Church and Race" being taught by Mrs. Robert Swaney of Monessen at the Fellsburg Methodist Church each Monday evening. Only two more of these weekly sessions remain.

Mrs. John Ames, a member of the group is one of the teachers at the Monday evening course. She is teaching a study of the Book of Mark, and will present the same course to the Wesleyan group during Lent.

New Guild officers were recently installed at a morning worship service at the local church. They were Carol Davenport, president; Retta McSweeney, vice president; Gladys Adele Dobson, secretary; Berneil Lewis, treasurer; Florence Ames, secretary of promotion; Louise Sims, supplies secretary. The Rev. William Schatz, church pastor, was in charge and Miss. Davenport was soloist.

Methodist Church Society Meeting; Lesson Is Presented

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met in the church social rooms on Wednesday evening with the president, Miss Elizabeth Roley, presiding.

The meeting opened with prayer, and Gladys Adele Dobson served as pianist for the program.

Frances Lowman, second vice president, presented the program. Mrs. William Bierwirth was the devotional and lesson leader, and her theme was "Our Home Mission Centers and Race." The purpose of the lesson was to stimulate in WSCS and Wesleyan Guild members appreciation and enthusiasm for what some home mission centers are accomplishing in helping Christianize race relationship.

Assisting Mrs. Bierwirth in presenting the panel discussion on "The Women of Methodism Who Have Sought to Fulfill The Vital Needs of People of Many Races" were: Mrs. Paul Davison, who spoke of the work at the Homer Toberman Settlement House, San Pedro, Calif.; Mrs. Harold Robins on the Marcy Center in Chicago's Westside; Mrs. Edward Morgan on the Bethlehem Center, Memphis, Tenn., one of 34 centers functioning in predominently negro neighborhoods; Mrs. Albert Pocky, the work with the Navajo Indians at Farmington, N. M.; and Mrs. Thomas Sims on the work with Indians and Eskimos in Alaska.

Conducts Service

Mrs. Sims, spiritual life secretary, conducted the candlelight service for the signing of pledge cards for the fellowship of intercession. Assisting her were Mrs. John Kinsey and Mrs. Berwyn Evans.

In observance of United Nations Day Mrs. William Myers spoke on what the United Nations means to the United States.

During the business session following the local society voted ratification to the charter of racial policy for the women's division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

The Quiet Day for Week of Prayer and Self Denial was held this afternoon with Mrs. George Ventura, Mrs. William Myers and Mrs. Davison aiding Mrs. Sims with the program.

Appointed to serve on the committee for visitation of the sick were Mrs. Thurman Reeves, Mrs. J. C. Peth, Mrs. Berwyn Evans and Mrs. Davison. Appointed to serve on the membership drive committee were Mrs. William Bierwirth, Mrs. George Ventura, Mrs. Kenneth Beazell, Mrs. John O. Martin, Mrs. Maude Springer, Mrs. Charles Keller, Frances Lowman, Mrs. S. M. Speers, Mrs. Ada Steen, Mrs. Robert Forsythe, Mrs. Edward Morgan, Mrs. Bert McNutt.

The society will pay for the renovation of the church parsonage kitchen in the near future.

Mrs. E. C. Kearns and Mrs. Kenneth Beazell will be delegates for a trip to United Nations.

A donation of $25 was voted to the Belle Vernon Ministerial Association for the week day religious education classes.

Luncheon was served at tables appointed in keeping with United Nations Day. Hostesses were Mrs. Thurman Reeves, Mrs. Berwyn Evans, Mrs. Harold Robins, Mrs. William Myers and Mrs. Donald Pender.

Sale Date Changed

The R. J. Linton Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church announced a change in the date for the rummage sale scheduled for this week. It will be held on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 at the Church annex from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m.

The Youth Council of the First Methodist Church will meet on Sunday evening at 5:30 in the church.

Tri-Hi-Y Installation Held Here Tuesday

Formal installation of new members was held by the Bellmar High School chapter of the Tri-Hi-Y, which was held on Tuesday evening in the High School auditorium.

There were 18 new members welcomed in the ritualistic ceremonies conducted by the officers with Neville VanBremen at the piano.

The girls had their mothers as guests, and luncheon was served in the library. Mrs. Patty Bell held a jewelry demonstration during the social hour.

Dames of Malta Plan Project

A routine business meeting was held by the Belle Vernon Sisterhood of the Dames of Malta on Wednesday evening in the lodge rooms. Mrs. Carl Younkin, queen was in charge and a business session followed the ritualistic opening.

Mrs. Mary Hormell outlined plans for a ways and means project.

Mrs. Anna Hoffman reported on the Zenadocia, which she attended in Florida recently.

Betty Junk and Gladys Bakewell were appointed as the lunch committee for the next meeting.

It was decided to complete plans for a Christmas dinner party at the next session.

Mrs. George Morrell of Bradenton, Fla., formerly of Belle Vernon, suffered a broken arm in a fall at her home recently.

Reds Have Mystery Weapon

MOSCOW (UP)—An 80-foot long canvas-shrouded object parked in downtown Moscow gave new indication today the Soviets would unveil their latest guided missiles early next month.

It is one of a number of weapons in canvas covers dotting Moscow. The Russians are expected to take the wraps off for a giant military parade Nov. 7, the 40th anniversary of the "October Revolution" when the Bolsheviks seized power in 1917.

Nothing the size of the 80-foot object has been seen in previous anniversary parades. It is mounted on a wheeler chasis and pulled by a tractor. It appears to be in the shape of a huge missile.

Some diplomatic observers speculated the Soviets would shoot off an experimental intercontinental ballistics missile and other weapons which Soviet party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev said recently "we have up our sleeves."

For several days the Russians have been bringing the wrapped weapons into Moscow.

The 40th anniversary celebration has been under preparation for nearly a year. The Russians were certain to make the most out of such scientific successes as the TU-104 jet passenger plane, the ICBM and the earth satellite.

Highways Dept. Can Hide Records

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Department today had legal authority to clamp a lid of secrecy over its records covering virtually every phase of new highway planning and construction.

The state Justice Department ruled that Pennsylvania's new "right-to-know" laws do not require the department to throw open to public inspection its records covering 13 categories of data, including route locations and studies, condemnation proceedings for rights-of-way, and construction cost estimates.

The opinion from Attorney General Thomas D. McBride was among a number sent to various state departments and agencies in response to their requests for rulings on how the laws that went into effect last Sept. 1 affect their operations.

McBride ruled that "none of these categories of records is required to be open for public inspection":

—Results of the "needs studies" prepared under the 1956 federal highway act.

—Information as to route locations, traffic data, cost data, etc., contained in engineering reports prepared by consultants for proposed highway projects.

—Right - of - way condemnation plans prior to authentication by the governor.

—Construction cost estimates prepared relative to contract construction.

—Maintenance cost estimates prepared for department force construction projects.

—Correspondence between the Highways Department and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads relative to the status of all federal-aid projects.

—Correspondence between the Highways Department and consulting engineers regarding design projects underway and location studies.

—Right - of - way condemnation appraisal information relative to cost of take.

—Correspondence between the Highways Department and the U.S. Corps of Engineers on river crossings and water sheds and missle site installations.

—Comparative cost data relative to the establishment of federal-aid interstate highways.

—Detailed locations of contemplated highway construction prior to authentication of condemnation plans by the governor.

—Contractors' labor statistical reports affecting contract construction performed for the Highways Department which, by law, are furnished by the contractor to the department.

—Transcripts of meetings between the department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and other agencies and commissions regarding location of road projects in which any or all of those agencies are involved.

'Open' Mental Hospital Plan Is Successful

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP)—The hospital didn't have any choice about it. There was nothing to do but put female "mental" patients into the same small ward with female medical and surgical patients.

Even a layman would think that was bad, and certainly most doctors would agree. People who are physically ill or who have had surgery need quiet and rest. "Mental" patients often are neither quiet nor restful.

But this was the 5005th Air Force Hospital at Elmendorf Base in Alaska. Being a military hospital, it has, in addition to obstetrical facilities, only one 30 - bed ward for the female relatives of airmen.

So in went the mentally ill (but physically healthy) with the physically ill (but mentally healthy.) And what happened? Nothing.

The two groups got along famously together. Despite forebodings, the mentally ill behaved themselves.

This was reported by Dr. Pietro Castelnuovo-Tedesco, who was in charge of the hospital's neuropsychiatric service for 18 months and who now is a member of the faculty of Boston University School of Medicine. His report coincides with a growing scientific suspicion that the very atmosphere of the average public mental hospital makes the mentally ill sicker rather than better.

Cameron "Open" Advocate

Dr. D. Ewen Cameron, world-famous psychiatrist and professor of the subject at McGill University, Montreal, once put this new concept into a few words for this writer. The mentally ill behave as they're EXPECTED to behave by the people around them and by their doctors and nurses. Usually they're expected to behave badly, and so they do.

Dr. Cameron is an advocate of the "open" mental hospital in which there are no locked doors and no restraints of any kind. He operates such a hospital in Montreal and there are a number of such hospitals in Canada and Britain. Dr. Castelnuovo-Tedesco, however, had no choice about it in that remote Alaskan hospital; he had no "closed" ward for females.

The mentally ill women were of all degrees, including the "acutely disturbed, hallucinating, or destructive." But they always were in the minority in the female ward where the majority thought them merely sick of "nerves" as you might be sick because of your stomach or liver. The mentally ill woman was accepted by the physically ill women as one of the girls, and the doctor was happy to see them benefit from "girl talk."

"In other words, they find themselves in a 'normal' environment and seem to benefit from the fact that they are in contact with essentially well people," he said in his report to the New England Journal of Medicine. "They tend to learn their ways and follow their example. In this setting patients are stimulated by the performance of others to sustain their defenses and behave in a fairly appropriate fashion, rather than surrender to their illness and learn from their neighbors other psychotic mannerisms as not infrequently happens with patients who have just been admitted to a state hospital."

He noted that the percentage of psychiatric patients in such a ward would always have to be quite small. But "as a general rule," he said, "it may be stated again that—within certain limits—(mental) patients who are treated as normal persons tend to behave as such." He also noted that he had no idea what would have happened if all the patients had been men. The female patients had a "protective interest" in one another. He suggested that psychiatry ought to find out if men would, too.

Strikes Paralyze France Today

PARIS (UP) — Nationwide strikes by millions of French workers beat leaderless France to its knees today.

Transportation all but ceased in the growing protests against rising prices and frozen wages. Communications were shattered and public services were at a standstill.

The paralyzing strikes came on the 25th day of France's gravest government crisis since World War II. The almost powerless, lameduck government of Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury vainly strove to preserve order. He was toppled Sept. 30 when he lost a vote of confidence.

Undertakers struck and there was no one to bury the dead. Garbage collectors let refuse pile up in the streets and French families were faced with the possibility that lights and gas service could be cut off.

The strikes piled difficulty upon difficulty on Socialist Guy Mollet who is trying to form a government. He goes before the National Assembly Monday, but his chances of winning approval grew slimmer by the hour.

The lameduck government mobilized its crack security forces and flew in 1,200 more special security troops from Algeria to try to maintain order during the nationwide work paralysis.

Violence broke out in St. Nazaire Thursday when 6,000 strikers battled 2,000 riot police in the shipyards in protest against a lockout by employers. One man was killed. The number of injured was estimated in the hundreds.

Today's strikes were led by the Communist - dominated General Confederation of Labor and the Roman Catholic Christian Workers Union. The Socialist Workers Force (Force Ouvriere) abstained in hopes Socialist leader Mollet could form a government.

King James Version of Bible Remains Big Favorite of Many

WASHINGTON (UP) — When the Revised Standard Version of the Bible was published five years ago, there was widespread expectation that it would supplant the King James Version as the basic Bible of American Protestants.

The "RSV" has been a phenomenal success. More than five million copies have been sold, and it is still on the best-seller lists. Scholars have acclaimed it. Tests have shown it easier to read and understand. On its fifth anniversary, the RSV is already firmly established as the best of all modern translations, an invaluable aid to any serious student of the Scriptures.

But it has NOT taken the place of the 346-year-old King James Bible. And it begins to seem doubtful that it will ever do so.

The King James Version still outsells the RSV by a ratio of about 8 to 1. And the RSV share of total Bible sales has shown a tendency to decline rather than increase in the past two years.

Current sales figures are not, of course, conclusive. The National Council of Churches, sponsor of the RSV, recognized from the start that it would take a long time for any new translation to rival the long-loved King James in popular acceptance.

Clergy, Scholars First

It assumed that the swing to the RSV would begin with clergymen and other Bible scholars qualified to compare the two translations, and that the Bible-buying public would eventually follow suit.

This assumption recently received a rude jolt in the form of a survey conducted by the Living Church, weekly Protestant Episcopal magazine.

The magazine polled more than 400 Episcopal clergymen whose names were taken at random from a denominational roster. It asked them which version or versions of the Bible they customarily used for public worship, for private reading, for sermon texts, for serious study of scriptural passages.

The responses showed that the RSV was very highly regarded as a reference, and that it surpassed all other modern translations combined in favor as a "second Bible."

But it was also clear, the Living Church reported, that "the RSV is not by any means taking the place of the King James," even in a denomination which has been notably sympathetic to the new translation.

For example, 262 clergymen said they "always" read from the King James Version at public worship, compared to only 32 who regularly use the RSV as a pulpit Bible. The rest use both versions for worship, but the vast majority —109—"usually" choose the King James.

Lopsided Favorite

The old translation was similarly a lop-sided favorite for private devotional reading, for sermon quotations and texts.

The one question on which the RSV won a majority was: "What version do you use for serious study of Holy Scripture?" The responses indicated that the average clergyman often consults several translations, including the original Greek, in serious Bible study; but if only one Bible is used, it is more likely to be the RSV than the King James.

The magazine said the reasons given by a majority of Episcopal ministers for their choice of Bibles were well summarized in these two replies:

"I trust the scholarship of the RSV, and therefore I rely quite heavily on it for accurate translation. However, as sacred scripture for the use of the people, the RSV loses much that only the King James Version has—the dignity and beauty of great prose; familiarity and the warmth which that familiarity can give; the tremendous wealth of biblical reference, allusion and quotation which pervades the English language, all of which comes from the King James."

"Unless the meaning (of a particular scriptural passage) is actually obscured in the King James Version, I use it because its beautiful language still has hallowed associations for this generation of Christians, which are not to be taken lightly."

Hoxsey Pills Are Destroyed by U. S.

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A half million pills seized by the government in a raid on the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Portage, Cambria County, were destroyed Wednesday.

The pills were burned on a dump in McKees Rocks in accordance with a Federal Court order.

In October, 1956, a federal court jury found the government had a right to seize the pills on the grounds they were misbranded and mislabeled as aids in the cure of cancer. The pills were seized at the clinic in March, 1955.

Crucible Steel Plans Laboratory

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Crucible Steel Co. today announced establishment of a new applied research laboratory to be located at its Sanderson-Halcomb Works in Syracuse, N.Y.

Joel Hunter, Crucible president, said the laboratory will be a field research facility, operating as an extension of Crucible's Research and Development Department in Pittsburgh.

Dr. A. M. Aksoy, chief metallurgist for Vacuum Metals Corp., Syracuse, an operating division of Sanderson-Halcomb Works, will manage the new facility.

Woman's Society Has Plans to Sponsor Program for UNICEF

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, Fayette City, will sponsor a UNICEF Halloween program.

The Senior Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Gill, will act as Big Sisters to their younger friends in visiting the homes of the town next Wednesday evening to explain why it is a "trick to treat."

Mrs. Clyde Wyatt, a teacher in the local school and Mrs. Read Brightwell, social activities co-chairman for the Society, will assist Mrs. Gill with the program.

Trick or Treat for Unicef is a program which belongs to the youth of America. It was started by them. They make Halloween a day of sharing instead of scaring. The only trick is to treat the hungry and sick children of the world.

A UNICEF Halloween is traditional with spooks, witches and goblinds; it retains all of the fun of ringing doorbells, parties, apple-bobbing and the collecting of treats. The difference is that UNICEF spooks and goblins are really angels in disguise. The treats they collect are pennies, nickels and dimes which, through UNICEF, become life-saving penicillin, protective vaccine and health-giving milk and vitamins for children who are ill or malnourished.

Last year more than one and a half million American youngsters in some 7,500 communities joined in making a gift of three-quarters of a million dollars to UNICEF. Fayette City children are joining these ranks for the first time.

The residents of Fayette City are asked to open their doors this Halloween to these young people who have opened their hearts to all the world's children. They would like the people to know that one cent provides enough BCG to protect one child from Tuberculosis. Two cents provides one child with ten glasses of milk. Five cents provides enough penicillin to cure one child of Yaws.

Methodist Men Hear Talk on Anti-Aircraft

The anti-aircraft protection being provided the district was discussed by two Army officers on Tuesday evening during a meeting of the Fayette City Methodist men in the church dining room.

Capt. E. Deadwyler and Lt. G. T. Swisher of the Nike Site located at Elrama talked on the project and showed movies of the plan. The two officers then answered many questions asked by their interested audience.

The meeting was opened by the president, Chester Myers. Clarence Young was the devotional leader. Read Brightwell gave the invocation prior to the serving of dinner at 6:30. Myers introduced the guest speakers.

Sixteen members of the men's group were present. There were two guests. Announcement was made that the annual Ladies Night would be observed at the November meeting.

Fall Fashion Show Plans Are Discussed Here

The committees for the Fall Fashion Show being sponsored by the Fayette City Woman's Club have prepared plans for next Tuesday's event in the Fayette City Community Center.

The affair will show the latest in Fall and Winter clothes from Rosenberg's, Charleroi. Models will be provided by Rosenberg's as will a number of door prizes. Other prizes will be provided by the club.

The co-chairmen, Mrs. Willard Auther, Mrs. Charles Yusko and Mrs. John Traversara have asked Mrs. Joseph Williams, Mrs. George Troth and Mrs. Patrick Hynes to act as hostesses. Tickets and prizes are in charge of Mrs. William Opfar and Mrs. Lewis Alberta. Decorations and ushers will be by the co-chairmen. Entertainment will be in charge of Mrs. Howard McCrory, Mrs. Aland Dent, Mrs. James Hamer, and Mrs. L. Alberta. Publicity is headed by Mrs. Jack Stockton and Mrs. John Wilson.

At the conclusion of the show, refreshments will be served. The lunch committee includes Mrs. LeRoy Gardner, Mrs. Richard Auther, Mrs. Willis Johnson, Mrs. Read Brightwell, Mrs. Joseph Butler, Mrs. Thomas Conway, Mrs. Stephen Figel, Mrs. M. M. Janeri, Mrs. James Eley, Mrs. James Hamer, Mrs. William Hicks, Mrs. Robert Lincoln, Mrs. James Moody, Mrs. Roy Mossburg, Mrs. Frank Rihtarcik, Mrs. Vernon Smith and Mrs. Albert Walton.

NEW LINCOLN PREMIERE — This 1958 Lincoln model introduces classic, sculptured lines, a long, low hood topped by a horizontal grille and canted dual headlamps. The Premiere series is powered by a new high compression engine rated at 375 horsepower at 4800 rpm. Fives inches longer than last year's model, the new Lincolns introduce integrated body and frame construction.

Flu Death Toll Tops 350 Mark

By UNITED PRESS

The nation's death count from flu and its complications shot upward today to top the 350 mark, nearly double the toll reported last week.

A United Press tally showed 354 flu-caused deaths since the start of the outbreak in the United States last summer.

That figure was an increase of 174 fatalities over the previous week and was by far the biggest single weekly death toll reported.

New York State had the highest fatality rate with 110 deaths, 85 of them in New York City. Pennsylvania was next with 59, followed by Michigan 32, California 31, Louisiana 21, Illinois 17, Iowa 13, Ohio 12, Utah 11, Colorado 10, Hawaii 9, Wisconsin 8, Kentucky 6, Indiana 3, New Jersey 3, Connecticut 2 and 1 each in Arizona, Maine, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Washington and the District of Columbia.

Many More Stricken

In addition to the high fatality toll, the U.S. Public Health Service in Washington estimated that influenza has stricken some 2,500,000 Americans, about one-million of them last week.

The million cases last week marked the sharpest rise in flu incidence since the Asian flu first invaded the nation.

Although the flu outbreaks were becoming "more extensive and intensive," U.S. Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said the death rate so far was "not alarming."

Burney said the toll so far was below the expected two-thirds of one per cent of those stricken with influenza.

The worst single epidemic killed 15 persons at the Pennhurst State School for Retarded Children near Philadelphia. Two new flu deaths at the institution were reported Thursday.

Epidemics in colleges forced another round of football cancellations and postponements this weekend. At least 13 scheduled grid games were knocked out by flu and five others were postponed.

Flu struck a second state institution in Wisconsin, with 40 per cent of the patients at the state's Northern Colony ill with Asian flu.

The warden of the Ohio Penitentiary ordered all convicts with colds hospitalized as a precaution against a flu outbreak.

In Fairfax County, Va., the school board ordered 17 of 74 schools closed due to the flu.

Former Resident Dies in Ohio

Word has been received here by relatives of the death of Mrs. Bertha Hough Lint, formerly of Fayette City.

Mrs. Lint died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elenor Laurence in Norwood, Ohio, where she will be buried on Saturday. She is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Hough, Stockdale, and is survived by Mrs. Laurence and a son, Herbert of Virginia Beach, Va.; four grandchildren; three brothers, Charles and Blanchard, Fayette City and Harold, Stockdale and two sisters, Pearl Proten, Charleroi, and Virginia Calligari, Bridgeport, Conn.

May Lift Ban

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—The Nationalist Chinese government may soon lift its five-year-old ban on the publication of new newspaper as a result of growing stocks of newsprint, it was reported today. As an immediate result of the easing newsprint situation, the report said, existing newspaper will be permitted to increase their size from six pages to eight.

What's PAY'N SAVE Club?

It's A Wonderful New Way To Gain Financial Security NOW!

What kind of financial security?
Money in the Bank-from $500 to $5000 deposited in your Pay 'N Save Club savings account immediately. What's more, you're protected in case of untimely death.

That sounds too good to be true. How can I have that much money right away?
Very simply. The Bank lends you the money for the savings goal you choose. The entire amount is credited to your Pay 'N Save Club savings account.

How is my savings goal life insured?
Should you die unexpectedly, your beneficiary would receive the entire goal in your Pay 'N Save Club savings account. The unpaid balance of your loan would be taken care of through a group creditor life insurance policy. No more payments would be required. This insurance feature costs you nothing.

How do I pay for my Pay 'N Save Club savings account?
In regular monthly installments, just like you would buy a car. Take up to 5 years to pay if you wish.

Does the money in my Pay 'N Save Club savings account earn interest?
Yes, your entire savings goal earns the Bank's regular rate of compound interest, right from the start.

How much interest do I pay on the loan?
You get a special, low interest rate on the loan. The difference between the interest rate on the loan and the interest earned in your Pay 'N Save Club savings account is surprisingly small.

Is anyone eligible for a Pay 'N Save Club savings account?
Anyone up to 60 years of age is eligible. No medical examination is required.

Come in today. Establish the immediate security which Pay 'N Save Club can give you. Or, mail this coupon for more information.

J. Nelson Jackaway Family Honored at Farewell Party

Approximately 160 persons met in the social room of Rehoboth Presbyterian Church Wednesday for a farewell party for the Rev. and Mrs. J. Nelson Jackaway and family. The Rev. Mr. Jackaway, former Rehoboth pastor, and family are moving to Philadelphia.

The event was in charge of James Leeper. Mrs. Ada Belle Leeper led the group in singing "America, the Beautiful", with Nancy Stacy at the piano. Scripture reading was by William Smith Sr. and Mr. Wiseman offered prayer.

John and David Russell from Harmony Church entertained with three selections, singing "Where Could I Go", "Kneel at the Cross", and "Just a Closer Walk". Madge Russell from Marion Presbyterian Church gave two readings. "Pa Potts and the Winter" and "Pa Rents a Modern Apartment".

Mrs. Leeper then led the group in singing a number of folk songs and the Russel brothers followed with singing "Just a Little Talk With Jesus" and "When God Dipped His Hand of Love in My Heart". Madge Evans was heard in another reading, "An Evening at Home".

On behalf of the gathering, Robert Finley presented the Rev. Mr. Jackaway with a cash gift and the latter responded with words of appreciation. Mrs. Jackaway received a personal gift from Freda Smith in behalf of the Builders Class, in which Mrs. Jackaway was an instructor. The latter also expressed appreciation.

All present joined in to wish the Jackaways "success and the best of luck in their new field".

After a closing prayer by William Smith, lunch was served by the Ladies Aid Society. During lunch Edmond Rogers, Pricedale Church, played the accordian.

Webster Church Official Board Have Meetings

A special meeting of the official board of Webster Methodist Church was held Friday to discuss furnace problems.

The meeting was in charge of John Konsugar and opened with prayer by the Rev. John Snell. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. John Jugan, Sara, June and Ida Mae Walker, Al Sarber and Bernice Vescio.

A regular meeting was held by the group Wednesday with Donald Sarber in charge. Madge Hamilton opened with prayer after which reports were read by Kathyrn Jugan, secretary, and Mrs. Arnold DeShong, treasurer. Mrs. Hamilton then gave a report on the Christian Education Council. The group decided to send boxes to servicemen overseas. Present were the Rev. Mr. Shell, John Konsugar, Edgar Smith, Fred Ahlborn, Donald Sarber, Mrs. Florence Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. DeShong and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hamilton.

Fair Committee Meet

The Rostraver Fair Committee will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. instead of Monday in Rostraver Junior High. Anyone interested in the fair is urged to attend. By-laws are scheduled to be adopted.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornell are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cornell at North East City, N.Y.

Ladies Group Holds Meeting At Fells Church

The Ladies Auxiliary of Rostraver Central Fire Department met Tuesday at Fella Church with Mrs. Seiple, president, leading the pledge of allegiance.

Reports were given by Frances Pasierb, secretary; Frances Skirda, treasurer, and Gladys George, financial secretary. Plans were furthered for the Christmas party to be held at Twin Coaches on a date to be announced.

The luncheon - is-served-project has been postponed from Nov. 4 at a later date. The pig-in-the-poke donated by Ann Yakubic was won by Frances Pasierb. Lunch was served. Others present were Barbara Doerfler and Eva Altier.

Halloween Fete For Troop 63

Girl Scout Troop 63 of Fellsburg met Wednesday afternoon at Fells Church.

Plans were discussed for the Halloween party to be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mood. There will be no regular meeting next Wednesday because of the party. A project for second class badges was started.

Present were Barbara Assad, Carol Heath, Carol King, Betty Ranker, Rose Yowonske, Sara Smith, Freda Chapman, Grace Ahlborn, Victoria Dils, Susan Naylor, Dessia Lewis, Carla Watts and a guest, Carol Mood.

Cheerleaders Dance

Cheerleaders of Rostraver High School will hold a Halloween dance tonight from 8 to 11 o'clock in the High School gymnasium. Music will be by records. The public is invited.

Senator Wants Congress to Ease Atomic Exchange

CLAREMONT, Calif. (UP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case said today Congress should carry through on the proposal by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to ease U.S. restrictions on exchanging atomic information with its allies.

The New Jersey Republican said the present "stringent ban" prevents exchange of information on design or fabrication of atomic weapons "no matter how beneficial or how helpful to the United States it might be in the view of those qualified to judge."

Case said "surely the standard ought not to be as at present the kind of information involved, but rather whether an exchange is likely to be in the best interests of the United States."

He made the statements in remarks prepared for the Southern California Assembly on Public Policy, a forum sponsored by four colleges in this area.

What Is the Progress Parente Claims to be Responsible For?

Is it the many new homes and churches that the people built for themselves and assumed mortages? – Certainly not! Is it the new industries he brought into town? We know of none and we know of one that he drove out of the City – The Rockwell Mfg. Co. Is it new business that he brought into town – Certainly Not? Monessen has never had as many bankruptcies and empty storerooms as we have now. Is it the few secondary streets that have been paved? With the money we pour into City Hall every year – (over $600,000 a year) we should have our streets paved with gold bricks. His record is mostly political promises of big things to come and which never happen. The only progress is his own political gain and that of his political gang.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Michael Gladys, who died two years ago today, October 25, 1955.
Deep in our hearts there's a picture,
More precious than silver or gold,
It's a picture of you, our dear one
Whose memory will never grow old.
Treasured thoughts of you dear
Often bring a silent tear,
Thoughts return to scenes long past,
Time goes on, but memories last.
Sadly missed by The Family

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Matilda Mehalek, who died 12 years ago today, October 25, 1945.
You are not forgotten, loved one,
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes on we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by Children and Grandchildren

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, A.T.A.N. Joseph Jugan, who was killed four years ago today, October 25, 1953.
Loving memories never die
As years roll on and days pass by,
Deep in our hearts a memory is kept
Of one we loved and will never forget.
Friends may think we forgot you
When at times we seem to smile,
Little do they know our sorrow
That the smiles hide all the while,
We think of you in silence
No eyes can see us weep
But many silent tears are shed
While others are asleep.
A smile, a tear, a thought sincere
How often we wish that you were here.
Sadly missed by Mother, Father, Brothers and Sisters

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Barbara Petruska, who died three years ago today, October 25, 1954.
Not dead to us who loved her;
Not lost but gone before,
She lives with us in memory,
And will forever more.
Sadly missed by sons, John, Paul and Emil, Wives and Grandchildren.

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Barbara Petrusky, who died three years ago today, October 25, 1954.
When life threatens to make us blue,
We cling to a memory to carry us through,
Feeling that somewhere you are standing by
Ready to help when you hear us cry,
And so dear mother your life of love
Is a precious treasure from Heaven above,
Your grave we tend with loving care
For part of our heart is buried there.
Sadly missed by daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Bill and Grandchildren

In loving memory of my dear wife, Mrs. Barbara Petruska, who passed away three years ago today, October 25, 1954.
'Twas just three years ago today,
My heart was made to sweep,
As I watched my loved one pass away
Into that quiet sleep.
Beautiful memories of you so dear,
I cherish still with love sincere,
A day that comes with sad regret
And one that I will never forget.
I love you, yes, no tongue can tell
How deep, how dearly and how well,
God loved you too, and thought it best
To take you home with Him to rest.
Beloved wife, you have left me,
Left the home you loved so well,
But some day I hope to meet you,
And together we shall dwell.
Sadly missed by her husband, John Petruska

Ohio Oil Boom Under Way

Elgin J. Brandes this week reported the completion of his fourth successful Oil and Gas Well in a row in Eastern Ohio. All four Wells were completed by Hydrafrac, the new method which has been used in drilling over 1,000 new producing Oil and Gas Wells in Ohio during the past two years. The Hydrafrac score for Ohio's Clinton Sand field is phenomenal — 8 producers out of each 10 wells drilled.
Brandes' group holds 35,000 acres under lease, including 15,000 acres in the area of the big Benedum Oil Well reported in the Oct. 7th issue of Time magazine as a 6,720 bbl. gusher. Brandes has seven more wells scheduled for drilling this year. Residents of Pennsylvania can buy interest in one well or several wells. Your investment is 100 per cent deductible for tax purposes — also 27½ per cent of profits are tax free. For complete details write to Robert Hollick, P. O. Box 416, Roscoe, Pa.

Labor Party Wins Victory in Ipswich Election

LONDON (UP)—The Labor Party more than doubled its margin over the Conservative party in Ipswich's by-election for a Parliament seat and Laborites hailed the victory today as proof the Conservative government policies were "bankrupt."

It was the 12th consecutive Labor Party victory in a by-election since Prime Minister Harold Macmillan took office but he still held a comfortable 65-vote margin in the House of Commons over the Laborites and there was little change he would bow to Labor demands for a new general election.

In the Ipswich voting Thursday Labor candidate Dingle Foot polled 26,898 votes and Conservative candidate John Cobbold 19,161. This was a majority of 7,737 for the Socialists and more than twice the 3,582 of their last victory there.

Pretty Miss Manuella Sykes, a Liberal Party candidate, polled a surprising 12,578 votes. In the last election in 1955 there was no Liberal candidate.

The Labor press chortled at what it called a Tory downfall. The Socialist Daily Herald said: "Labor triumphs at Ipswich. For the Tories it is another disaster."

"WHO CAN DO IT?"

What Type Furniture For Baby?

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

A brand-new baby needs a place to sleep and little else in the way of furniture. The new parents, however, will find a bath table and facilities for storing the infant's clothing helpful, although not absolutely essential.

As the child grows older, there will be a few other articles you'll need such as a high-chair, play pen, toy chest, a toilet seat or a nursery chair.

The baby will need a high-chair by the time he is six months old, when he begins to sit up and is eating solid food. Be sure to get a sturdy one with legs spread outward to prevent a lively youngster from causing it to overturn.

Trays may be of plastic, wood or metal, although I think you might find the plastic variety easier to keep clean. Some sort of strap or safety device should be provided to hold the youngster securely in the chair.

A play pen is a great convenience both to the baby and his mother. Not only does it keep a youngster out of mischief, it also helps teach him to walk by providing safe, sure support.

The play pen you select should be large enough to provide the baby with plenty of play room.

I advise you to get the type which has a raised floor. This will keep your infant away from dirt and drafts. Also, the folding mechanism should be simple and free from any danger to prying fingers.

If you want, you can begin by placing the baby in his play pen for an hour or so each day as soon as he can roll over.

A toy chest, naturally, is handy for storing toys. But more important than helping to keep baby's room neat, it will help to train the youngster.

Teaching him to put his toys in the toy chest will show him that everything has a proper place. It will also teach him obedience and respect.

A nursery chair or toilet seat is essential for training the youngster. One might be better than the other, depending upon the child.

Some children refuse to be left alone while sitting on a training seat. If your child insists that you must be with him at these times, a nursery chair might be best. Since it can be moved about, it will permit you to continue your household chores while still providing your youngster with the company he desires.

Dog Non Deductible

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that the upkeep of a seeing-eye dog is not deductible as a business expense. The service said maintenance of a seeing-eye dog "which the individual uses daily in the conduct of his business may be deducted as a medical cost but not as a business expense.

George Gobel Finds His Business Rough

By RON BURTON

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — George Gobel has been in and out — mostly in—of show business since he was 11 years old. That's when he found out that a lefthanded shortstop has little or no future in baseball.

"It would be great if batters went to third base first, but since they go to first base," he said, "that rules out lefties in the position. So rather than try to peg the ball to first while off balance — as any poor lefty would have to do — I decided to let the righthanders keep their monopoly. I figured that show business was the alternate goal for me."

Gobel's current show business release is "I Married a Woman," an RKO film made by Universal-International. As Gobel pointed out, the title doesn't suggest anything very unusual, but he suggested watching the film carefully to learn something about comedians.

Rough But Rewarding

"It's a rough business, trying to be funny," he said. "Even in movies, in which it's rare for a complete sequence to be filmed in one shot, you still can see signs of strain. Watch carefully. On television it's even more obvious. You can sometimes see perspiration on someone's brow, and it's not always due to the hot lights by any means.

"Most people have the mistaken impression that a comedian only stands up before an audience and jokes pop out of his mouth, but it is not as easy as that. There are hours of hard work behind every good line and good gag, to say nothing of mental and physical preparation. I lost 22 pounds while we went through the 11 weeks of 'I Married a Woman.' "

George Gobel

Gobel said he wasn't criticizing his business—far from it. He said he just likes to try to correct a general impression every now and then—such as one about a comedian's life being a bed of roses.

"A funnyman's life is rough, I know, but I guess no one forced me into it," he said. "It's also one of the most rewarding as far as I'm concerned, and I love it.

"Besides, my son's Little League team has three righthanders who can play shortstop. They really don't need me.

A Quick Dip

ASHLAND, Wis. (UP) — Nick Rouskey, 60, should have weighed his anchor before dropping it over the side of his boat while fishing in Lake Superior. The heavy anchor quickly ran the length of the short rope and flipped Rouskey and the boat wrongside-up in the water.

World of TV—

Pat Boone Is Haunted By Time

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP)—Pat Boone, a young man in a hurry, is haunted by time.

At the age of 23, Boone occupies a snug niche in what the untamed refer to as show biz. He is what the trade calls "a gasser" in the record and personal appearance branches and seems to be conquering a third medium, TV. In his movie appearances, he has not exhibited any conspicuous talent for acting, but this, of course, has never been a deterrent to success in Hollywood. He should, in time, prove a gasser in pictures, too.

He is a young man spectacularly unburdened with vices. But he also is a young man squeezed by the clock. He divides his days between a demanding career, a beckoning home life and Columbia University's School of General Studies, where he is in his senior year.

Above all, he seems to harbor a fierce drive to make good—even in his school life he is bucking for a Phi Beta Kappa key.

Not Much Idle Time

He does have a few outlets outside his daily regimen, but not much time for them. He owns some hi-fi equipment and a half-interest in an inboard cruiser with Frank Musiello, a member of the Arthur Godfrey production family. Boone also shares a financial, but not much of an emotional interest, in a race horse, "April's Love," with his manager, Jack Spina and actor Arthur O'Connell. The horse's name is an inexact swipe from the title of Boone's second picture, "April Love."

But viewed from any angle, Boone is a slave to the clock. His day-to-day life is as carefully mapped as a military campaign.

It is not surprising, therefore, that Boone's chief fault lies in the resistance, even resentment, he shows to the push of the clock.

"It's kind of fantastic, but we just can't seem to get him to change," says his wife, Shirley. "He just refuses to have any conception of time. Getting him to arrive for an appointment on time is a job in itself."

Spina concurs. He has a collection of stories about Boone's disregard for the clock.

Very Costly Mincemeat

"Once, he had an appointment for 8:30 in the morning and he didn't even get up until 11:30," moans Spina. "There was another time in Hollywood where he was eating a Thanksgiving leftover dinner.

"Well, I pleaded with him to quit—we had a recording session that day — but he began digging into the mincemeat pie. Well, that piece of pie cost us about $1,000—that's how much overtime the musicians got because Pat got to the session late."

Strangely enough, Boone's tussles with time extend in another direction — he collects watches. "He kind of likes the real thin kind right now," says Shirley Boone, "but it's hard to tell how many he has because he constantly gives them away.

"It's one of his quirks — like toothbrushes. He's crazy about toothbrushes. He's always brushing his teeth. When we were going together, he even used to keep a toothbrush at my house."

"Listen, we have been careful with this boy, careful from the start," says Spina. "He may not phrase like Sinatra, but who does? He may not have that tone of Como's, but again, who does? Pat has a good voice, a great personality and that extra something that makes a great star.

The sago palm of the East Indies requires ten years to bear fruit. After bearing fruit, it dies immediately.

New Orleans Search On for Mad Killer

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Police conducted the biggest manhunt in New Orleans history today for a savage bandit who kidnaped a minister and his secretary as they left church, choked the woman to death with a handkerchief and left the minister for dead.

Four hundred officers were on duty around the clock, checking every corner of the city. Twenty-eight suspects were being questioned and 10 of them had been booked on loitering and vagrancy charges.

The Rev. Martin W. Holl and Mrs. Maud Lind were seized when they got into Holls' car Wednesday night after prayer meeting at St. John Lutheran Church, where Holls is pastor.

The bandit forced his way into the vehicle and took his captives on an hour-long ride of terror during which he slashed both with a razor blade and repeatedly slugged the minister with a pistol butt.

Police said his actions indicate the man is a homicidal maniac. There also was evidence the woman was raped and a medical examination was being made.

The Orleans Parish Coroner's office said the secretary died of "asphyxia due to suffocation by a handkerchief stuffed in her throat," but added that she lost enough blood from a severed jugular vein to have caused death.

The medical examiner also said the woman's throat probably was cut by someone familiar with anatomy, since the wounds were clean and the vein neatly severed

Langer in Surgery

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. William Langer (R-N.D.) underwent eye surgery Thursday for removal of a cataract. His office said his condition was "good." Langer entered Bethesda, Md., Naval Medical Center Tuesday for a check-up. Doctors then advised the operation. Langer spent most of the last Congressional session in the hospital recovering from pleurisy and pneumonia.

SCIENCE VIEWPOINT — Dr. Hans Erich Hollman, pioneer in microwave and radar research, gives his viewpoint on American science in San Francisco, that America tries to "mass produce" research the way we mass produce everything, while Russian scientists take their time.

Deputy Protocol Chief Booted Out of His Job

WASHINGTON (UP)—Victor Purse, State Department deputy chief of protocol, was booted out of his job Wednesday. There was a suspicion it was because he came back from New York aboard President Eisenhower's plane while his boss came via commercial airline.

Purse, who helped escort Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip during their recent visit here, was notified he was being relieved as the government's number two official greeter of foreign dignitaries.

There were reports his chief, Wiley T. Buchanan Jr., asked that Purse be relieved soon after he saw his deputy get off the President's plane Columbine III when the Chief Executive returned from New York Wednesday morning.

Buchanan denied that Purse's presence on the presidential plane had anything to do with the decision to relieve him. He said the action had been under consideration "for a long time."

Hippopotamus is derived from two Greek words—hippos, meaning horse, and potamos, meaning river.

Sears Labor Practices Probed

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee today began cataloguing labor practices of Sears Roebuck & Co. which put Nathan W. Shefferman in the labor-relations business.

W. W. Tudor, vice president in charge of personnel for the nation's largest mail-order house, was listed as the first witness.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said today's brief session would dig into what Sears and Shefferman did in 1953 when the Retail Clerks Union tried to organize the Sears store in the Fenway section of Boston.

Shefferman, described by Kennedy as "a notorious union buster," headed Sears' labor relations from 1935 to 1948. In 1940, with help from Sears, he set up a Chicago firm called Labor Relations Associates.

He still heads the firm which has some 300 management clients across the country and is the target of the current Senate hearings.

One of Shefferman's labor "consultants" testified Thursday on the firm's activities at Clyde and Marion, Ohio, plants of the Whirlpool Corp. Walter J. Patterson testified that he paid thousands of dollars of Whirlpool's money to plant workers in Clyde to spread pro-management propaganda during a union organizing drive.

Patterson said Whirlpool "must have" known about the payments. They made up a part of the $136,899 in fees and expenses paid by Whirlpool to the Shefferman firm for work at Clyde, Marion and St. Joseph, Mich., during the 1953-1956 period.

TV Viewing Gains

WASHINGTON (UP)—Four out of five American homes had television sets as of last April. The latest survey of the Cenus Bureau also showed a sharp climb from 1950 when only 12 per cent of all American households had TV.

Shades of West

FRANKFORT, Ind. (UP)— Norman D. Beeks, a livestock dealer, was in trouble with the law for bringing home the bacon. Police said Beeks admitted he rustled 69 hogs at five Indiana hog markets.

New Air Route

LONDON (UP)—Radio Moscow reported today that one of Russia's TU-104 jet airliners has made a test run over a proposed Moscow-Kamchatka air route which would be the longest in Russia. The broadcast said regular service on the route will begin next week.

To Free Japanese

TOKYO (UP)—Russia has promised to release 45 Japanese fishermen seized on charge of violating Soviet territorial waters from prison early next month, it was announced today. Soviet Charge D'Affaires E. G. Zabrodin advised the Foreign Office that the Japanese captives will be released during the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.
